ROOSEVELT'S INAUGURATION.

Scenes of Splendor Attend This Great Event.

IT WAS VERY IMPOSING

As Well as the Most Interesting Event of the Kind in the Nation's History.

STORY OF AN EVENTFUL DAY.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Roosevelt on Saturday took the oath of office before a vast gathering of the people he had been elected to serve. The attendant scenes were not unusual. Inaugurations from the time the east front of the capitol first became the setting of the ceremony have been much the same. Many of the central figures have officiated in like capacity on other occasions when presidents have acceded to the highest office in the gift of the American people. Chief Justice Fuller, in administering the oath, repeated a solemn function he has repeated four times—this his last. Yet, with all this repetition, nothing was jaded and everything appeared new.

The great crowd assembled for the crowning event of a day full of features, cannot be estimated even by comparison. It extended far beyond the reach of the voice and was so densely packed as to carry the stage out of the sight of many. The capitol plaze, resourceful in accommodating the thousands eager to view the ceremony was completely filled. People came by its numerous streets and avenues, which, like so many yawning, ravenous maws, greedily swallowed the throng, until every coign of vantage was occupied. The trees, barren of foliage, carried their human burden on limbs capable of bearing the weight of man or boy, and so far away as the terraces and marble steps of the Library of Congress thousands stood.

THE GREAT CROWDS.

Hours before the ceremony could be expected to take place the people sought the most advantageous positions. They came by every means of conveyance, carriages discharged their occupants blocks away, and cars in steady streams unloaded their passengers within the prescribed area from which the unlicensed vehicles were excluded. The number of conveyances of all kinds was totally inadequate to meet the demands of the public.

Some time before the beginning of the inaugural ceremony several thousand persons holding tickets entitling them to seats on the stand began to take their places. By 12 o'clock, the human garden which had flourished in the Senate and House galleries, was transplanted in the open air amphitheatre. The brilliant costumes of the women gave to the scene the finishing touch of color. Added to the acre of people seated, who looked down upon ten acres standing, were hundreds banked upon every projecting ledge of the capitol and filling the windows.

ENTRANCE WAS DRAMATIC.

At about 1 o'clock the official party came through the main door. Cheers were sent up from the enthusiastic multitude, all eyes were directed that way and strained to get a glimpse of the President. Shouts of "There he is" were heard frequently, but nearly every time the cry was sounded in false alarm.

The official entrance was dramatic. All except those who were participating in the ceremony were seated. When the justices of the Supreme Court, except Chief Justice Fuller, emerged from beneath the Corinthian pillars and marched down the sloping carpeted aisle to their station, they were greeted with applause. The Justices wore their robes and skullcape. Then came the members of the diplomatic corps in their gorgeous uniforms and they evoked thunderous applause. Led by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador and dean of the corps, and followed by the others in order of precedence, they took seats on the right of the stand. Strolling after them came members of the Cabinet, Senators and Representatives in Congress.

President Roosevelt came forth from between the massive pillars quietly and composedly. He was escorted by Chief Justice Fuller. With measured tread in harmony with the dignified step of the Chief Justice, the President advanced in state down the long aisle of distinguished guests. By this time all were standing and nothing could be heard above the roar of thunderous welcome. Immediately following came, arm in arm, the members of the committee on arrangements.

As the President passed down the aisle he bared his head and with characteristic sweep of hat bowed in acknowledgement of the salutations from the stand and the ovation from the people. His manner was not that of a man incurring onerous responsibilities, three years in the White House having familiarized him with the duties of the high office to which he was to be inaugurated.

TAKING THE OATH.

At a sign from Chief Justice Fuller the clerk of the Supreme Court stepped forward holding a Bible. A hush fell over the crowd. The President raised his right hand and the oath to support the laws and constitution of the United States was reverently taken amid deep silence. When this had been concluded there was practically no demonstration and the President began his inaugural address. As soon as he finished speaking he re-entered the Capitol and as he disappeared within the building a signal was flashed to the navy yard and the roar of twenty-one guns was begun in official salute to the President.

Bishop Garvey at Dedication.

The dedication services of the new Church of the Immaculate Conception, at Lock Haven, on Sunday, were attended by over a thousand people, a large number of whom were from out of town, principally from Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Bellefonte and Renovo.

The ceremonies were very impressive and were conducted under the direction of the Right Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, formerly of Williamsport, now Bishop of the Altoona Diocese. The day was one of gladness and thanksgiving to the members of the church, and to their Pastor Rev. J. N. Cordori, whose faithful services and untiring efforts made it possible to have such a magnificent house of worship.

The services were commenced at 10 30 a. m. After the dedicatory ceremony pontifical high mass was celebrated by Bishop Garvey. The Bishop was assisted in conducting the mass by the following priests: The Rev. P. McArdle, of Bellefonte; was the Bishop's assistant; the Rev. A. L. Reudter, of New Oxford, deacon of the mass; the Rev. B. J. Maucher, of St. Agnes church, Lock Haven, and the Rev. John Costello, of Williamsport, and the Rev. D. J. Bustin, of Jersey Shore, subdeacons of the mass; the Rev. J. T. Looney, of Meyersdale, deacon to the bishop; the Rev. J. J. Braddy, of Renovo, first master of ceremonies the Rev. F. P. Corcoran, Snow Shoe, second master of ceremonies, the Very Rev. D. J. Flynn, LL. D., vice president, Mt. St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, Md., censer-bearer, and the rector, the Rev. J. N Cordori.

The evening service began at 7:30 o'clock, and were in charge of the Very Rev. Father Flynn. The fourteen figures representing the stations of the cross, were blessed by him. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. D. J. Mustin, of Jersey Shore, and the discourse was indeed an excellent one.

A feature of both services was the singing of a children's chorus of fifty voices.

The church edifice is a truly magnificent structure and was erected at a cost of $37,000. The exterior is of Hummelstown brownstone, and the two lofty towers are capped with gilded crosses. The old church was razed last summer and since that time worship has been conducted in the parochial school building.

Deer With Broken Back.

The people of Dewart and vicinity are much exercised as to what shall be done with a deer with a broken back that has been found not far from the village. They are afraid to display a humane spirit and kill the suffering and helpless animal, fearing they will be prosecuted for violating the game laws. The state game warden at Harrisburg has been notified of the plight of the deer and it is expected the state authorities will make a prompt move in the matter. It is not known how the dear was injured.

Bi shop Talbot Honored.

The Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, Bishop of the Central Pennsylvania Episcopal Diocese, was recently honored while visiting his brother, the Rev Robert Talbot, rector of Trinity church at Kansas City, Mo. The Kansas City church club entertained him royally at a banquet at the Midland Hotel. He was also honored at a luncheon by the pupils of St. James' Military Academy

THE RECORD OF DEATHS!

Loved Ones Who Have Been Called Home

IN CENTRE COUNTY

And Adjoining Counties—Dr. John Bilger, Mrs. Julia McClintick, Dee A. Welsh and Others.

BRIEF SKETCHES OF DEPARTED ONES.

DR. JOHN BILGER.

Dr. John Bilger, a respected and esteemed resident of Centre county, died at his home at Pleasant Gap on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock of paralysis, after an illness of seven weeks. His death was a great shock to his family and his many friends throughout the county.

Dr. John Bilger was born in Middleburg, Union county December 25th 1843 making his age at the time of death 61 years 2 months and 8 days. He was the son of Jonathan Bilger and with his parents moved to Centre county in 1859 locating in Spring township. He attended the Union Seminary at New Berlin. He was married to Miss Rebecca Brooks who survives him with two children, William H., of Bellefonte, and Helen R., at home. The wedding occurred thirty-seven years ago.

She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Robert Sloteman,, and one brother William, both of Pleasant Gap, and by his step-mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger and the following half-brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mary Rees, Bellefonte; Thomas, of Blue Springs, Nebr.; Frank and Newton, of Severance, Kan.; Mrs. Abbie Rockey, Zion; Mrs. Lauretta Yobey, Bellefonte; Mrs. Elizabeth Bender and Annie, of Lancaster; Nellie, of Tyrone, Mrs. Phoebe Hile and Virgie, of Pleasant Gap.

Dr. Bilger was a kind, affectionate husband and father, honored and respected by all who knew him. He has been an active and consistent member of the Advent church for about thirty-five years.

He will be missed by his many warm and intimate friends both at home and in adjoining counties, where he is widely known.

The funeral services were held at the church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Ebersole of Sterling Run. Interment at Zion.

MRS. JULIA M'CLINTICK.

Mill Hall, March 7.—Mrs. Julia McClintick, widow of the late John McClintick, died Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Stewart, in Bald Eagle township, of congestion of the lungs. The deceased was taken sick sometime ago, and seven weeks ago was taken to the hospital at Lock Haven for treatment. She had so far recovered that she was able to be taken to her daughter's home, where she had been living about two weeks. She was improving nicely, when recently she contracted a heavy cold, until it terminated in lung trouble, when she began to grow worse until death relieved her of her suffering.

Deceased was aged 78 years and eight months, and is survived by eight sons and five daughters—Mortimer, George, Mrs. Amelia Riggle and Mrs. Charles Wasson of Johnsonburg; Clark and Edward, of Jacksonville; John, of Ridgeway; Andrew of Coalport; Elmer, of Cedar Springs; Reuben, of Penfield; Mrs. Bertha Dunkle, of Hecla; Mrs. Mina Crownoble of Pleasant Gap and Mrs. Alex Stewart, of Bald Eagle. Besides these she is also survived by 31 grandchildren and a number of great grand-children.

Mrs. McClintick was born in Penns Valley, and for the past 57 years has been a resident of Clinton county, always living in this vicinity. She was well known throughout the county and was highly respected and loved by all, her many kind deeds winning her a host of friends. For many years she had been a member of the Methodist church, always taking an active part in this work.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of her daughter in Bald Eagle township and interment was made in St. Pauls cemetery.

D. A. WELSH.

The many friends of Dee A. Welsh will be shocked to hear of his sudden death which occurred at his parents home in Coudersport on last Saturday. His death was due to heart disease and was entirely unexpected by his family and friends. A telephone message received here Saturday night by Miss Daisy Barnes announced the sad news of his death.

Mr. Welsh was employed for a year or two as a clerk in W. R. Brachbill's furniture store and later as an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He boarded with Mrs. Tanner on Spring street. A few weeks ago he resigned his position here and went to his father's home in Potter county. He was 26 years of age and a very exemplary young man. He was highly esteemed by his employer's and friends and his death has excited a great deal of sympathy here.

A Key to the Labor Problem.

It has become an axiom in the commercial world that in the long run those transactions must promote prosperity which are advantageous alike to buyer and seller. It is coming to be realized in the industrial world that the same thing is true regarding the arrangements between employers and employees, and that no arrangement is permanent that is not regarded as being beneficial to both. In other words, the only healthy industrial condition is that in which the employer has the best men obtainable for his work, and the workman feels that his labor is being sold at the highest market price.

The employer who insists on more service than he pays for, and the employee who demands excessive wages for his work, both lose in the long run. The former worries continually about how to manage dissatisfied workmen who are continually on the verge of a strike, and in dull times the latter lives in constant dread that his employer may no longer be able to continue business and he may be out of work. The important thing for the average workman is not that he shall have exceptionally high wages during times of great prosperity, but that he shall have continuous employment and fair wages at all times.—H. L. Gantt, in The Engineering Magazine for March.

The Home Paper.

An exchange publishes the following on the subject of the relation of the "Home paper" to the people of a community:

"Someone has well said that 'your home paper never loses interest in you.' This probably you have never given a passing thought. No matter whether you like the newspaper man or he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal matters or petty spites to interfere with his work of news gathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best and dearest friends chronicle your success and your sorrows wherever you may be. Those who will forget you but for your home paper, are ever and anon reminded of your existence by some item in the village paper where you have spent your boyhood days. Others may deceive and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you do not always deserve it, but a newspaper on the right lines has no pets, and should it at any time say things that cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said nice things for which you fail to give it cedit."

Flowers from Jerusalem.

Mr. John P. Harris, a few days ago, received an interesting little album from Jerusalem which contains numerous specimens of the flowers of Palestine. The covers of the album are made of olive wood and the work of transferring the flowers to the inner pages is exquisitely done, preserving the shape, colors and texture of the leaves and blossoms as perfectly as in the natural state. It is a curious and interesting bit of art. A letter accompanying the album stated that the sender was a poor man who supported his family by making and selling these books.

Died.

Mrs. Clarissa M. Holmes, wife of W. M. Holmes, Esq., died at her home in Wilkinsburg at 5 o'clock Thursday morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by her husband W. M. Holmes and daughters, Mary, Adaline and Cora at home and two sons, Wesley at home and John, of Philadelphia. She also leaves one brother, Col. Evan M. Miles, U. S. A., San Francisco, Cal.

The funeral was held at Wilkinsburg this morning. Interment at Lock Haven this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE NEW BORO COUNCIL MEETS.

President Jenkins Announces His Committees.

FOR THE NEW YEAR

D. F. Fortney Re-Elected Borough Solicitor—Thos. Shaughensy, Sr., Street Commissioner—S. D. Rine, Water Superintendent and J. H. Wetzel, Boro Engineer.

THE BUSINESS THAT WAS TRANSACTED

The old borough council of 1904 met in the council chamber in the public building Monday morning at ten o'clock wound up the business of the year and adjourned.

Those present were Messrs Kirk, Mallory, Fenlon, Seibert, Wise, Keichline, Keller, Derstine and President Jenkins in the chair.

Burgess Walker made a report for the year 1903 and 1904 which showed that his administration was making an excellent record

Nothing of importance was elicited from the different committees.

Dr. Kirk moved that an order for $2,000 be drawn for the sinking fund.

Burgess Walker swore in the newly elected councilmen Messrs. W. H. Derstine, North Ward, Henry Brown, South Ward. Dr. M A. Kirk. West Ward. James K Barnhart was sworn in as Boro Treasurer, Thomas Howley, Overseer of the Poor, and M. A. Jackson, Auditor.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Street pay roll	$ 30 38
Police pay roll	50 00
W. T. Kelley, clerk	15 80
L. C. Bullock	6 60
Logan Hose Co	12 00
Bellefonte Gas Co	48 10
Bellefonte Electric Co	14 40
" " "	353 85
J S Knisely	1 70
"	1 25
Water Works pay roll	98 65
Bellefonte Electric Co	4 35
W. B. Rankin	25 00
F. K. Foster	25 00
A. Allison	11 91
W. F. Reynolds	175 00
G. M. Mallory	70
Sinking Fund	2000 00
	$2874 79

Immediately on the adjournment of the old council the new council was called to order by the clerk W. T. Kelly. It was organized by electing W. R. Jenkins for a second term as President, and Wm. T. Kelly for his third term as clerk. Both were elected by acclamation.

President Jenkins made a graceful speech on taking the chair thanking the council for the honor conferred. He said that he hoped that the pleasant relations of the past year would be continued and that the work of the council in the coming year might meet with the popular approval of the people.

Mr. Kelly has made a most competent and painstaking clerk and his re-election is to be commended.

Council then adjourned to meet Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The new borough council met on Monday evening at 7 o'clock with President Jenkins, presiding and the following members present: Kirk, Fenlon, Brown, Seibert, Wise, Keichline, Keller and Derstine.

The bond for the new boro treasurer Mr. Barnhart was fixed at $25,000.

Street—Derstine, Fenlon, Brown.

Water—Fenlon. Wise, Seibert.

Fire and Police—Wise, Keichline, Keller.

Finance—Keller, Kirk, Seibert.

Market—Keichline, Derstine, Wise,

Sanitary—Brown, Fenlon, Derstine.

Village Improvement—Keller, Keichline, Brown.

Water Improvement—Fenlon, Brown, Seibert, Keichline, Wise.

D. F. Fortney Esq., the Borough Solicitor, was re-elected without opposition. He has been a careful advisor in the past and has always given the matters brought before him his most careful attention. He is one of the oldest and best attorneys at this bar and council made no mistake in re-electing him.

J. Henry Wetzel had no opposition and was re-elected boro-engineer without a dissenting voice. A most deserved honor.

Thos. Shaughensy, Sr., was also chosen without opposition to succeed himself as Street Commissioner, This will make 22 years of faithful service in this capacity.

Samuel D. Rine was recommended by the Water committee for re-election as Water Superintendent and was elected by acclamation. Samuel Rine has filled the bill satisfactorily before and will do so again

There were four candidates for the police force as follows: Amos Mullen, George Jodon, George A. Eberhart and J. W. Rightnour. The fire and police committee could not agree so they left it to council and they decided to hold it over for two weeks.

The report of fire marshal, H. B. Kerns for the past six months was read and approved. It was well gotten up and showed that Mr. Kerns is looking after duties in a satisfactory manner.

The Yeager Swing Co., submitted a proposition looking to the renting of a portion of the Phoenix Mill Plant. This company has out grown its old quarters in the old car shop office five times over. They offered the council $300 a year for the first three years and $400 a year for the last two years. The offer was accepted with a proviso that if for any reason the council threw up the lease on the Phoenix plant the contract would be null and void.

Mr. Wise moved that a committee of three with President Jenkins as a member and chairman be appointed to meet a committee from Tyrone council to examine the provisions of the E J. Pruner will in regard to the establishing of an Orphans home in this place. The motion carried and the President appointed Messrs. Kirk and Wise on this committee with himself.

The bond of Thomas Howley, Overseer of the Poor in the sum of $3,000 Fidelity & Deposit Co., of Maryland was offered and accepted.

Defeated Bellefonte Academy.

The Normal school basket ball team of Lock Haven closed its series of home games for this term by defeating the Bellefonte Academy team Friday night by the score of 51-2. To the audience it looked like an easy proposition, but the large score was in reality due to the improved playing of the home team more than to any particular weakness on the part of their opponents. Winslow moved to guard, and Tobias to forward, each played a better game than in their previous position. Logan at centre, ran the games off accurately. Snyder at forward, played his usual steady game, and Ketcham at guard, who has the faculty of making his 135 pounds cover more gymnasium space than anybody of his size, covered his man so completely that he never saw the ball, Barry, who substituted for Ketcham in the latter part of the second half, carried out the same policy. In fact the home team played the kind of a game than would have made a much stronger team than Bellefonte's look easy. This team certainly did not lack grit and played a snappy game to the very finish. Beddall particularly won the admiration of the crowd by breaking away repeatedly and running the ball down the floor successfully, except when he fouled by dribbling.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Senator Knox Ill.

Pittsburg, March 6.—It is announced here that Senator P. C. Knox, the junior Senator from Pennsylvania, is critically ill in Florida, and there is grave fear among his friends that he may not be able again to take his seat in the United States Senate.

The first intimation of the serious illness of Mr. Knox came from Philadelphia, where it is announced that two well-known Republican politicians had gone to Florida to investigate personally the condition of the Senator, and they had returned with the startling news that the rumor that Mr. Knox was suffering from Bright's disease, instead of grip, was true.

However, a few days later there came the news from Philadelphia that an important conference on railroad rates, to be held here, could not be held because Mr. Knox, the prime mover, could not be here. This was about February 11, and at the request of Knox's physicians this was postponed until February 17. There was no chance of having this meeting on the second date, either as the condition of the junior Senator did not improve, and it was given out that he would go South for some time for his health.

AWFUL CRASH OF EXPRESS TRAIN!

Rear End Collision Between Special Trains

AT CLIFTON STATION

First Train had Stopped for a Hot Box and Second Could not be Stopped in Time

THE WRECKAGE TOOK FIRE.

Pittsburg, March 4.—In a rear end collision last night between two special passenger trains from Cleveland on the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad, en route to Washington, six men and one woman were killed and twenty others injured.

The accident happened at Clifton station, eight miles west of here, and was caused by the first special stopping for a hot box and the second followed so closely that the flagman had not time to get back far enough to prevent the collision.

The first train carried a battallion of the Ohio engineers. It was made up of six coaches and a baggage car. The second train with the same number of cars carried the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, with a band and twenty-five or thirty-five women.

When the crash came the passengers in the rear car of the first train were the principal sufferers and all of the fatalities were in that car. The wreckage took fire from the engine and the entire first train and three cars of the second were burned.

New trains were made up and sent to the scene to bring the dead and injured here.

Major J. B. McQuigg, who was in command of the Engineers' battalion, had both legs broken at the thigh and will probably die.

Captain Charles E. Pope was the only officer of the Engineers's batalion to escape injury and he will be in command of the battalion which will return to Cleveland. The Tippecanoe club will continue their journey to Washington.

When roll call was made of the Tippecanoe club only two men were missing. They may be among the injured who were taken to the hospital at Rochester, Pa.

The engineer of the second train says that the block signal showed a green light and his train went ahead at the rate of about forty-five or fifty miles an hour. When the impast came the engine of the second train ploughed through the rear Pullman, in which the officers were, and half way into the tourist car just ahead of it.

Two men died while being taken to the Beaver county hospital at Rochester. Their bodies will be brought to this city for identification.

Cleveland, March 4.—The superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city has received the name of C. T. Scott, a Pullman conductor, of Chicago, who came on with the car, as having been killed. The superintendent believes that one dead man in whose pocket was found, the card bearing the name C. Healt, is Scott, and that he had another name card in his pocket.

Presbyterian Pastor Installed.

Nearly all the churches in Williamsport were represented in the congregation at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening when the installation of the Rev. William Charles Hogg occurred. The edifice was not large enough to accommodate the congregation. Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York city, delivered the sermon of the occasion, which was a masterly effort. The charge to the people was delivered by Rev. William E. Thomas, D. D. of Lewisburg and the charge to the pastor by Rev. Robert Hunter, D. D., of Philadelphia.

Danville's New Bridge.

Danville's new steel bridge over the Susquehanna is fast nearing completion The last span has been swung into place, and it is possible now for footmen to cross on the planks. The Danville newspapers are claiming that it will be the handsomest river bridge in the state. It will contain a wide driveway to be used for teams and a trolley line and a six foot walk on each side of the driveway.

AN ACT TO PUBLISH THE LAWS.

Representative Reitmeyer Has Introduced a Bill at Harrisburg.

Representative Reitmeyer, of Lycoming county, has introduced in the house a bill providing for the publication of the acts of assembly from session to session in a sufficient number of newspapers in each county. For years there has been discussions of the necessity of such a measure. Every two years a large number of important laws are passed and with the exception of a comparatively favored class these acts are unknown to the people. As a result there are many violations of law through ignorance of these enactments, especially such acts as those regulating the sale of foods, the hunting of game and fish, and similar measures.

There has been much hardship as a result of legislation of this class and the proposed law is one that will commend itself to the people of the commonwealth. While ignorance of the law is no excuse under our system of jurisprudence the fact that new laws are unknown to the people ought to be a mitigation of the offenses recently charged against them. About all that many persons know of the new acts of assembly is what they see in a fragmentary way from time to time during the consideration of the bills by the Legislature. Mr. Reitmeyer has the right idea. As New York has been publishing the laws of that etate in the newspapers for many years there ought to be no opposition to the bill.

Easter This Year.

The latest date on which Easter can fall is April 25, It falls this year on April 23. Three times within the nineteenth century there was a late Easter In 1848 Easter Sunday was April 23, in 1859, it fell on April 24, and in 1836, beautiful sunshine and blossoming flowers bore witness to the fact that April 25 represented the date of the great spring festival. During the present century there will be two late Easters beside that of this year. In 1943 it will occur on April 25, and the year 2000 will be marked by the chronicling of the holiday on April 23. Lent begins on March 8.

The date for Easter is determined by the first calendar moon on or after March 21. Count 14 days from the calendar moon and Easter will be the first following Sunday. This year the calendar moon is April 4; add 14 days and the first Sunday following will be Easter.

Twenty-Nine Squirrels in One Tree.

A number of men are now engaged in cutting paper wood up along Spring creek in Benner township, among them being Sturgis Charles who vouches for the following story. One day last week the men cut down a large birch tree which proved to be hollow. The fall broke it in two and out scampered just twenty-nine squirrels, of the red or "piney" variety. The tree was felled a couple days after the fall of a fresh snow and yet not a squirrel track led to or from the tree while not a nut or any other kind of squirrel food was found inside the tree, facts which prove conclusively that squirrels do hibernate; and yet the little animals were in no wise dormant, as one of the woodchoppers found out to his sorrow when he caught it and had his finger bitten through and through.

A Big Exodus to Dakota.

Tuesday, Feb. 28th, a party of twenty-three people from Haines township passed through Bellefonte on their way to South Dakota where they expect to permanently locate and engage in farming. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. E M. Boone and five children; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hess and six children; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hess, of Feidler, and William Musser, of Coburn, all of whom will locate near Scotland, and Mr. and and Mrs. A. W. Wetzel, also of Feidler, who will locate at Menno. Several other families from that neighborhood also contemplate going to Dakota later in the year.

New Swindling Scheme.

The postoffice department has sent out warning to hotelkeepers, merchants and others to be aware of purchasing money orders, as swindlers are operating with them extensively. The scheme is to purchase an order for $6 or $8 and then raise it to $60 or $80, With the increasing order they pay hotel bills or purchase merchandise for small amounts and get $50 or $60, as the case may be, in change. When the order is presented at the post office it does not agree with the advice, and by that time the swindler has departed.

By the Tonic Route.

The pills that act as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are the DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Billiousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles cured me of chronic constipation." Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA ROUND TABLE.

To be Held at Lock Haven; Pa. March 17---18, 1905.

The Central Pennsylvania Round Table of Superintendents and Principals will hold its semi-annual meeting in the State Normal School Chapel, Lock Haven, on the 17th and 18th of March, 1905.

All friends of education are cordially invited to be present. The meetings will be informal and a free interchange of opinion will greatly enhance the interest. A large majority of the questions on the program have been suggested by the Superintendents and Principals who are members of the Round Table. The Round Table is exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the State, and his lecture alone will be ample compensation for any inconveniences that may be experienced in order to attend. Every indication points to a large attendance; will you not be one of the number?

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. L. A. Soper, of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendation that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when anything disagrees with her. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough caused by attack of la grippe. It heals the lungs. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Raw or Inflamed Lungs.

Yield quickly to the wonderful curative and healing qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. It prevents pneumonia and consumption from a hard cold settled on the lungs. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Pleasant and Harmless.

Don't drug the stomach to cure a cough. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the mucus, draws the inflamation out of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, heals, soothes and cures. A quick cure for Croop and Whooking Cough. One Minute Cough Cure relieves a cough in one minute because it acts first on the mucus membrane right where the cough troubles—in the throat or deep-seated on the lungs. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

The Virtues of Vin-Te-Na...

Your knowledge of the workings of the "human machine" no doubt makes you aware of the fact that the nervous system is fed and sustained by and through the blood.

When the blood is charged with the elements which nature designed, the entire nervous system and all the organs are kept in a healthful state.

Without the force which the nerves absorb from the blood, both brain and body are poor machines. Vin-te-na contains just those elements which are wanting in impoverished, poor blood. It was found on both common sense and scientific knowledge. It has conscience and integrity back of it. Vin-te-na is the one medicine that does precisely what it was designed to do, i. e. gives life and nerve-food to the blood. It actually cures every one of those disorders which come from impoverished blood.

RICH LADY'S DEATH A MYSTERY

Mrs. Jane Stanford Dies Suddenly at Honolulu.

WAS IN GOOD HEALTH

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN POISONED.

Honolulu, March 2 —Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford, of San Francisco, widow of former United States Senator Leland Stanford, died Tuesday night at the Moana hotel here. Suspicious circumstances surround her death. Mrs. Stanford told a friend here that an attempt had been made to poison her in San Francisco and that that was the reason for sailing on the steamer Korea for this place February 21.

Before retiring Mrs. Stanford took a dose of bicarbonate of soda, which she purchased at San Francisco. It is reported that the soda contained strychnine, but this report cannot be verified.

An autopsy on the remains was performed yesterday afternoon. The physician who conducted the autopsy said that the cause of death was tetanus of the respiratory organs, but that he cannot state how the tetanus was brought about until after an examination of the contents of the stomach. No inquest will be held until High Sheriff Henry receives the report of the chemist. This report will probably be received today.

The bottle containing the bicarbonate of soda bears the label of Charles Fells & Co., Adelaide, Australia, but it is believed that it has been refilled since it was purchased there. Miss Bertha Berner, Mrs. Stanford's secretary, says that the previous attempt upon the life of her employer was made January 14 last, at her home on Nob Hill, San Francisco, when strychnine was found in a bottle of mineral water. Miss Berner said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"We went to a picnic yesterday and were planning to go to one today to Halaewea, a suburban resort. Our lunch yesterday consisted of the ordinary cold dishes prepared at the Moana hotel, and there was nothing in it of the canned variety. Mrs. Stanford ate very heartily. She expressed great enjoyment in her trip and said she felt very well.

"We returned to the hotel at 4 o'clock and Mrs. Stanford retired to her room for a rest. Later she dressed for dinner. When the soup was served she said that would be sufficient, as she was not hungry.

"We then went to the veranda, where Mrs. Stanford planned the trip to Halaewea yesterday. She then said she would retire early, so as to be refreshed for the trip. At 8:30 Mrs. Stanford sent for her maid, May Hunt, whom she had recently employed. She then said to me: "I will retire and take my medicine. Please get it for me."

"I got a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, one purgative tablet and a bottle of mineral water. Mrs. Stanford forgot to take the medicine and laid down and slept. As soon as she awoke she took the medicine and again retired.

"Mrs. Stanford soon thereafter was seized with convulsions, which threw her out of bed. The maid and myself came in answer to her call, as did also a guest from a nearby room. She said, 'I am poisoned.' The convulsions continued in spite of the efforts of her physician. The bottle of bicarbonate of soda was purchased by me at Adelaide some years ago, but I think it had been refilled for Mrs. Stanford at San Francisco. I don't know by what druggist."

Centre County Lady Weds Clinton County Man.

A very pretty home wedding took place Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock when Miss Sadie A. Auman, of Woodward, Centre county, became the bride of Armstrong Quigg, of Lock Haven. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. O. Irvin at the home of the groom's father, David Quigg, who resides on the Lusk Run road near the Normal school, at Lock Haven. There was about 25 immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom present to witness the pretty ceremony. After congratulations had been extended to the happy couple the guests partook of an elegant wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Quigg left on a short wedding trip, and on their return will temporarily resides at the home of the groom's father. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

A BLUSTERY MARCH.

Hicks Says Equinoctial Tempests Will Cause Big Blizzards.

Rev. Iri Hicks' predictions for March do not anticipate the angle worms crawling up out of the ground, the singing of blue birds, or the chirping of robins, but instead we are to have more winter in the form of blizzards, snow, sleet, rain, cold, freezes thaws and so on. Hear him:

The first storm period centers on the 3d, 4th and 5th, having for its disturbing factors earth's vernal equinox, Vulcan influence of the moon new at solor eclipse node.

Probable Results:—A very low barometer, changing to much warmer, southerly winds and general threatening, will culminate in rain, sleet and snow storms within forty-eight hours of noon on the 5th. Destructive sleet storms will be characteristic of this and the storm period immediately following.

The second storm period is from the 7th to the 12th, central on the 9th, the earth's equinox, the mercury period, the vulcan force with moon in apogee and on the equator all combining to produce disturbances.

Probable Results: Unsettled and threatening conditions will prevail at the beginning of this period, but marked indications of severe and general storms will increase by the 7th. The barometer will fall to very low readings, and furious storms of rain, turning to sleet and later to blizzards will pass over the country generally about the 8th to the 11th. Equinoctial tempests will rush northward from the equatorial region, striking many waters and coasts lying in the paths of such storms, all around the globe. These storms up from the south seas will have their counterpart in sweeping boreal storms from the northwest.

The third storm period is central on the 15th, 16th and 17th, with moon at first quarter and north declination, the vulcan force and earth's equinox nearing its centre, as disturbing causes.

Probable Results:—Under strains of the vernal equinox, there is constant tendency all through this month to storminess and sporadic, precipitation in cold rain, sleet and snow. But this tendency rises to a maximum at the regular and reactionary storm periods, such a maximum will appear on the 15th, 16th and 17th bringing fall of the barometer, higher temperature and more decided rain and snow storms. Several days of high barometer, and an approach to fair, cold weather will succeed this period but weather that calls for care of life and well-being of man and beast.

The fourth storm period covers the 19th to the 24th inclusive, being coincidently central with the earth's equinox on the 21st. The moon at full, on the celestial equator and in porigee, adds its influence to those of vulcan and earth at this period.

Probable Results:—The indications are that some of the most general and severe disturbances of the month will appear during this period. Early in the period the barometer will indicate possible dangen in many parts on lank and sea, and as early as the 20th well defined storm areas will take up their march from west to east across the country. General rains with moderate temperature, electrical displays and tropical storms, will prevail up to about the 21st. South sea hurricanes and inland tornadoes to the south are quite probable with down pours of rain amounting to local floods. About the 21, rains will turn to snow and sleet cover all sections central to northern, and a phenomenally high barometer out of the northwest will precipitate violent northwesterly gales and blizzards from the 21st to the 24th, all winding up progressively by a grent March cold wave.

The fifth storm period is central on the 27th, 28th and 29th. The vulcan reactionary and the moon at last quarter and south declination, being added to earth's equinox as disturbing causes.

Probable Results:—The prevailing cold which followed the preceding period will relax at this time, the barometer will fall moderately, and more storms of rain and snow will appear, passing eastwardly and shift of winds to cold northwesterly will follow these disturbances.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Confesses Big Judgment.

The Altoona and Philipsburg connecting railroad property, through Attorney John B. Uhle, of New York, Thursday confessed judgment in the United States circuit court in favor of Samuel P. Langdon on two judgment notes, aggregating with interest $844,996.59. In the papers filed Thursday it was stated that the two notes were given for moneys advanced the railroad by Langdon.

BOMB THROWN IN WARSAW!

TROUBLES REPORTED

St. Petersburg Advices Are to the Effect That the Outlook Throughout Russia is Far from Reasoning.

A FOREMAN OF GAS WORKS STABBED.

Warsaw, March 3.—A bomb was thrown from a window overlooking the court yard of the Muranoff district police station at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It fell in the midst of a group of soldiers, but did not explode. Two Jews have been arrested for supposed connection with the affair. No details are available, as the authorities are very reticent.

Disturbances are reported to have taken place in several parts of the city during the afternoon. At the leather enamel works two workmen fired several shots at two of the directors as the latter were leaving the factory. The shots did not take effect and the assailants escaped.

A military patrol attempted to arrest some striking Jewish shop assistants in Krucza street, who were engaged in forcing shop-keepers to close their premises. The strikers fired on the patrol repeatedly, but without injuring any of them, and then escaped.

The question of gas supply is causing much alarm. The director of the company notified the governor general that the stock of gas on hand is sufficient to last only till Saturday. Unless the government intervenes and compels the strikers to return to work, the city will be in darkness by Sunday night. The gas works have been operated by soldiers for four weeks past, under the supervision of foremen who did not join in the strike. In consequence of the soldiers being without experience the machinery has become so dirty that it will be impossible to continue the manufacture of gas without qualified workmen. The foremen, who have been working forty-two hours at a stretch, are unable longer to bear the strain.

During yesterday morning's disturbances strikers stabbed a foreman of the gas works, who died last night. The other foremen are panic-stricken and refuse to work longer. They have left the works and resigned their positions, fearing the vengeance of the strikers. Unless the authorities take action, the directors of the gas works will telegraph a report of the situation to the minister of the interior today and disclaim further responsibility.

It appears that the chief point in contention between the company and the strikers is the latter's demand for the discharge of forty German engineers. The company is a German concern, and hence refuses to comply with the demand of the strikers.

In view of possible disturbances on Saturday and Sunday the gas complications are adding greatly to the danger of the situation.

Evangelical War Over.

Evidence that dissensions among the two branches of the Evangelical association is over were given at Pottsville Sunday. The East Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical association was held in that city and Sunday the churches of the United Evangelical branch were occupied by ministers of the parent body. The war between the factions, which were bitter for some years and which divided the church, has subsided and a better christian spirit prevails, and indications point that in the very near future both branches will be working in harmony for the common good.

A Buried Railroad.

The narrow gauge road between Mt. Jewett and Kane, over which in days gone by, B., B. & K. trains were wont to run, is buried. Snow is deep on the level in all sections of this county, but on the "Big Level" it is especially deep. The storm king piled up a series of immense drifts along the line and the proprietors of the road became disgusted and suspended operation. Later on the tracks will be uncovered and the road will resume business.

Death of Thomas Twigg.

[Published by request.]

Friday morning, Feb. 24, Mr Thomas Twigg, of Sandy Ridge, surrounded by his family and near friends, passed into the great beyond.

The circumstances connected with his death are peculiarly sad and caused a gloom and sadness to settle upon the entire community. Thursday morning in usual health he left his family and friends and started for his daily toil—to work in the coal mines at Retort, a short distance from Sandy Ridge. In the afternoon the sad news passed from lip to lip that Thomas Twigg was seriously hurt while at work, several tons of coal and rock had fallen upon him. He was immediately conveyed to his home and medical aid summoned. Everything that medical skill, and loving hands could do was done for him, but he had received internal injuries to such an extent that the following morning as above stated, he passed away.

Just one week before his aged mother entered the spirit world, little did he or any of that group of mourners think, as they met the following Monday and took the last leave of their mother, that at the same hour one week hence they would again be called and see the coffin lid close upon the earthly remains of another so near by the ties of nature. But such is the frailty of human hopes and plans and the uncertainty of life.

Deceased was a native of Centre Co., and has lived there nearly all his life. He was born May, 1859, making his age at time of death a little less than 46 years. He was a sober, honest, upright citizen, and his death is a severe blow to his many friends and his loss will be deeply felt in the community in which he lived.

He is survived by his wife and six children; Samuel, of Sandy Ridge; William, Foster, Chester, Annie and George, all at home. Services were held in the M. E. church on Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. G. M. Shriner, a former pastor assisted by Rev. Gladdas, of Houtzdale, a friend of the family. Rev. Shriner spoke eloquently and fittingly of the deceased, mourning for him as a personal friend and paying a high tribute to his beautiful life and noble character.

Interment was made in Osceola cemetery and a large concourse of sorrowing friends followed him to his last resting place.

NOTICE.

I am in search for a lost key as a living witness to testify that I am a son of Mulura Weaver of Ohio and that you knew him in Centre Co.

Mulura Weaver was born Feb. 27th. 1820 at Dayton Ohio and came to Bellefonte, Pa. the year of 1844 and was married to Miss Jane Hines of Nittany Valley and worked for Colonel Gray for some years and he then worked for Moses Thompson at Centre Furnace for many years and he then moved to Green Wood Furnace in 1861, and his uncle John D. Steward of Indianapolis, died in the year of 1866 and willed to the said Mulura Weavers children the sum of $15,000 to be paid as soon as the youngest child came to be 21 years old. But it is 38 years ago so I must look up this estate as it is a total of $48,000 due to the three brothers as the eldest is Moses Thompson of Port Matilda Centre Co. Pa., and 2 brothers in Comens Co. Neb. Asbury and W. M. D farmers. And I am still left here to represent myself as the name of Moses Thompson Weaver, a son of Mulura Weaver that was born Friday Aug. the 19th day 1853 at Centre Furnace. And I do hereby give this to the readers of this county as a notice for me to get some person to identify me that knew my father Mulura Weaver at Center Furnace, Centre Co. and oblige M. T. Weaver, Port Matilda, Pa.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of Indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas on the Stomach, Sour Risings, Bad Breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lesbus, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of stomach trouble. I was afflicted with Stomach Trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which entirely cured me. The six bottle were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes a rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The Days are Growing Longer.

The days are again growing longer. The period from sunrise to sunset is lengthening, and it is possible again to work indoors until 6 o'clock without calling into requisition artificial light. The afternoons have been lengthened more rapidly than the mornings because the sun has been changing from "sun fast" to "sun slow," occasioned by the elliptical form of the earth's orbit, and the varying route of the earth's motion in its orbit.

How to Help Your Girls.

The anxious mother of the family oftentimes carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visits are very often too great for consideration. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advise, which is given free. Correspondence is held strictly confidential.

TESTS PATIENCE.

Nothing spoils a good disposition.

Nothing taxes a man's patience.

Like any itchiness of the skin.

Itching piles almost drive you crazy.

All day it makes you miserable

All night it keeps you awake.

Itch! Itch! Itch! with no relief.

Just the same with eczema.

Can hardly keep from scratching it.

You would do so but you know it makes it worse.

Such miseries are daily decreasing.

People are learning they can be cured.

Learning the merit of Doan's Ointment.

Plenty of proof that Doan's Ointment will cure Piles, Eczema or any Itching of the skin.

Read the testimony of a Bellefonte citizen.

A hotel man of Bellefoute, says: "I have used Doan's Ointment and know it to be all that it is claimed to be. I tried it for itching hemorrhoids and other skin eruptions and found it to be not only one of the best, but in fact the only remedy that ever gave me any relief. I was in constant torment for years with hemorrhoids and anyone who has suffered from this trouble will know how welcome was the relief I found in Doan's Ointment. It cured me in about twenty-four hours. I have not only used it myself but have recommended it in numerous cases and always with the same good results. I would not allow my name to be used as a reference if I did not know it to be just as represented. I got the Ointment at F. Potts Green's drug store."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Mar. 4th.

I write you amid the fan fare of trumpets, the beating of bass drums and while the great procession is returning from the Capitol to pass the reviewing stand of the President. I have seen many parades go back and forth on this historic avenue, but this one, I think, excelled them all in pomp of drum majors, length and orderliness of procession and in the numbers and enthusiasm of the throngs of spectators. The president's salute of twenty-one guns from the Navy yard and a like number from Fort Myer and from Fort Washington are still booming.

There were about thirty thousand men in line, six thousand regulars, twelve thousand National Guards and two thousand cadets. There were over fifty Civic organizations in the parade. The presence of Porto Ricans and Filipinos added to the picturesqueness of the scene.

The president left the White House at eleven o'clock and proceeded up the Avenue to the Capitol, accompanied by a troup of his own Rough Riders, those who had been with him in Cuba. They were a fine looking group of men, but it was only with difficulty that they concealed their chagrin at being mounted on heavy artillery horses instead of having the light and nervous mounts to which they are accustomed. When the president reached the Capitol he proceeded at once to the marble apartment known as the president's room. Here the floral decorations were elaborate. The Mantle and windows were banked with roses and orchids and the bronze bust of McKinley was surrounded by flowers and a draped flag. The bills were brought from the Senate and the House and the president signed them as fast as he could, bnt not without looking them over. Then accompanied by the members of the Cabinet he went to the Senate, where at twelve o'clock Vice-president Fairbanks took the oath of office, and made a short address. The floor of the Senate was crowded with Senators, Representatives, members of the Diplomatic Corps and the presidential party. The Galleries in which every seat had been reserved for the families of the president, vice president, the Speaker of the House, and of Senators and Members were packed even the steps which were utilized as seats by the observers.

After his address and a prayer by the Chaplain Vice President Fairbanks administered the oath of office to the Senators-elect.

At the conclusion of these ceremonies the president took his stand on the inaugural platform facing the great crowd that had assembled on the plaza which extends from the Capitol to the gold domed Library of Congress. On his right sat the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court who administered the oath of office and the president then delivered his Inaugural address. It was very short, taking not more than ten minutes for its delivery, and owing to the immensity of the crowd could be heard only by those who sat in his immediate vicinity.

Immediately after his address the president returned to the president's room in the Senate and after congratulations and a few words with his friends he re-entered his carriage and was driven rapidly to the White House.

The waving of flags and cheering met him on all sides as he proceeded en at a swift trot up the Avenue and he was kept bowing from the right to left, acknowledging the enthusiastic salutes the entire way. After a luncheon to which a number of guests were invited, but which was really a hurried meal, he took his place in the glass enclosed stand which was in the centre of the "Court of History" and from this point viewed the procession which filed past him for three, hours. Stands lined both sides of the Avenue and obscured Lafayette Park and even the White House, but in order to make the scene as picturesque as possible the stands had been painted and draped with flags and statutes from the St. Louis Exposition were placed on specially prepared pedestals about the "Court." The Avenue as far as the eye could see was a mass of humanity. In the centre of the broad, clean streets soldiers, scouts, the National Guard, West Point and Annapolis Cadets, civic clubs and bands playing stirring music as the gorgeous drum majors perform their tricks which stir the soul of the small boy along the route. On either side of the parade the spectators are blocked and packed, elbowing and working into more advantageous positions or changing from side to side to rest the weary feet which have held them for six or eight hours.

The stands arranged with seats of the soft side of planks and roofed over were filled for the most part and every window along the Avenue some of which rented for a hundred dollars each, were filled with spectators.

The Grand Duchess Elizabeth will, in memory of her husband, Grand duke Sergius, provide dinners for forty days for the poor of Moscow who number 45,000. If the result is anything like the slaughter that occurred when the present Czar fed the poor in honor of his coronation the result will be worse than a battle with the Japanese.

How unspeakably corrupt must be the police force of New York when the officer best qualified to know says there is not a place in the city where street cars run that the pick pockets are not working under distinct contract with the Central office men and that the "whack up" was made on a basis of a half for each side.

A SPLENDID WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. Jennie Beck Died Suddenly at Her Home at Warriorsmark.

Mrs. Jennie Beck, widow of the late Jacob Beck, died at her home at Warriorsmark at 1 45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was born at Aaronsburg, Centre county, on April 7, 1857, and at death was aged 47 years, 10 months and 28 days. She was married to Jacob Beck of Loveville on April 6, 1876, who died a few years ago. She is survived by her mother, who is now 86 years old, one sister, Mrs. Martha Hildebrant, of North Dakota, who was with her at the time of her death, and one half brother, T. J. Gates, cashier of the Blair County National bank of Tyrone. One half sister, Mrs. Mary Antes, of Clearfield, and two half brothers, Perry and Soloman Gates, of the Half Moon valley, preceded her to the grave.

Some years after her father's death she became a member of the household of Isaac Beck, at Loveville, Centre county, where she remained until her marriage, which was also the home of T. J. Gates. To the family she was deeply attached. Mr. and Mrs. Beck were to her in every sense of care and interest the same as real father and mother, and with the children of the Beck family she grew up as one of the family, the attachment being deep, strong and lasting as life itself, her brother, T. J Gates, sharing equally with her in all the comforts and advantages of the delightful home.

The deceased became a member of the Lutheran church early in life. She resided in Tyrone about three years, then built a comfortable home at Warriorsmark, where she resided until death ended her useful and unselfish earthly career. She was an earnest and conscientious christian woman, whose life reflected the faith that she professed. Ministries to the interests and needs of others was a bright characteristic of her nature. Her aged mother, long the loving care of her daughter will miss her kindly hand. She was bound closely to her brothers and sisters, and the years but deepened the attachment. In the church she was a laborer and a helper to her pastor, and the light of her life will long be reflected in the good deeds that shall follow her.

The funeral took place Tuesday forenoon. Services in the Loveville Lutheran church at 10.30 o'clock by Rev. R. S. Stair, assisted by Rev. F. L. Bergstresser.

Junior Social.

The Juniors of the Milesburg Baptist church on Friday evening, Maroh 3rd, gave a surprise call on Mrs. Sue P. Fisher and Miss Ella Levy. Mrs. Fisher has been housed up with rheumatism all winter. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all. The Juniors sang and recited. Light refreshments were served and all had a good, social time. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Ambrose Swartz and Mrs. Lathrop.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dy-pepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years My case was almost hopeless Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The Dairymen's Organization.

The Dairymen of Bellefonte have formed an organization, taking for its name, The Dairymen's Protective Association. They have formed this for the purpose of protecting oneanother against bad accounts. As is known the profit on one quart of milk is very small and as they are constantly being taken advantage of, some action on their part was necessary. By the forming of this organization it will be impossible to purchase from any other dairymen, until previous accounts have been arranged, as is shown by the following by-law:

Resolved—That we, as members of this organization, will refuse to serve milk to any patron, while said patron is indebted to any other member of this organization.

IN NEW COAL FIELD.

Berwind White Syndicate Made Purchase in West Virginia Aggregating Nearly $2000,000 a Week.

The Berwind-White syndicate has entered the soft coal fields of West Virginia, and purchases aggregating nearly $2,000 000 were made in the last week. The company closed a deal last week for the W. P. Rend properties, in Fayette county, W. Va., consisting of five mines, on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. These lands last week produced more than 2,000,000 tons of smokeless coal, and are considered among the most valuable in the New River district.

Edward J. Berwind, believed to be acting for the same corporation, also closed a deal for the acquisition of 1800 acres of coal land belonging to the estate of the late Colonel J. L. Beury. The price is said to be $150 an acre—the highest ever given for undeveloped West Virginia coal land. The land is in Fayette county, near that bought from W. P. Rend. Mr. Berwind means to operate it immediately.

The Rend property, in addition to the five mines, includes 3000 acres of choice land, all on the railroad, and in a good position for economical operation. The price is said to have been about $1,000,000. The purchase carries with it a fuel contract with the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad that has three years to run. The Berwind-White syndicate has not announced whether it will operate the mines or act as the sales agent temporarily.

Mrs. Samuel Mitchell.

Mrs. Anna Mitchell, wife of Samuel Mitchell, after an illness of nearly a year with dropsy, died Tuesday night at 10:30 at her home in Philipsburg.

The deceased was a native of Stormstown, this county, but for twenty-eight years has resided in Philipsburg. She was aged 65 years. She was a good wife, an indulgent mother and a kind neighbor. For many years she has been a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. Her excellent qualities endeared her to very many friends, who will deeply lament her death. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. William Wilson, of Philipsburg, and three sisters, viz: Mrs. T. E. Watson, Clearfield; Mrs. Elizabeth Senser, Unionville, and Mrs. Hannah Gensamore, Bellwood. Three sons preceded her to the edirit world.

A Valuable Record of Local History.

Dr. Thos. C. VanTries has shown us the first number (Jannary) of "The Kittochtinny Magazine. A Tentative Record of Local History and Geneology West of the Susquehanna," published quarterly, at Chambersburg, Pa., Mr G. O. Seilhamer, Editor and Publisher. It contains several interesting historical articles, among them one of local interest to some of our citizens. It is entitled, "Two Conococheague Plantations," in which he gives some interesting family history, and a sketch of the lands owned and occupied by the Poe and Potter families one hundred and fifty years ago, with photographs of both the old Poe and Potter homesteads, which are still standing, and occupied by their present owners. The price of the Magazine is $3.00 per year, (four numbers,) or seventy five cents for the January No. Address Mr. G. O. Seilhamer, Chambersburg, Pa.

Funeral of Wm. Kane.

The funeral of William Kane took place on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his home at Pleasant View. The services were conducted by the Methodist pastor at Pleasant Gap.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, included in the latter were many of his old comrades, veterans of the civil war.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. John H. Bryan, John Dugan, Joshua Folk, Wm. Hampton, John Dunlap and James Thompson.

Interment was made at Curtins Works.

Evangelical Appointments.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical church was held at Hagerstown, Md., March 2-7, 1905, and the following appointments were made for this district:

CENTRE DISTRICT, E. CRUMBLING, P. E.

Altoona, M. I. Jamison; Bellwood, W. N. Fulcomer; Milesburg, J. A. Foss; Bellefonte, W. B. Cox. Howard, J. F. Shultz; Nittany, J. M. Price; Sugar Valley, H. T. Searle; Reberaburg, S. A. Snyder; Centre Hall, J. R. Sechrist; Spring Mills, M. J. Snyder; Millheim, I. N. Bair.

—A fakir went to a Clearfield store and bought a bunch of brass finger rings for a nickle each. He afterwards went out on the streets of the town and telling a hard luck story, managed to get rid of them for a dollar or two dollars each. Profits of this kind are large enough to satisfy an American billionaire.

When called for please say advertised.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

—Miss Mary Jane Linn died February 26 at the Home of the Friendless in Williamsport. She was aged 87 years and enjoyed the distinction of being the only real Daughter of the American Revolution known to be a resident of Williamsport. Her father served in the first war with England as a member of Capt. Gill's company of Colonel Moyland's regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. During the session of the fifty-fourth congress she was granted a Revolutionary pension of $12 per month and the measure was signed by President Cleveland. The pension was obtained through the effort of the Hon. J. D Hicks, of Altoona, Several days before her death she requested an attendant to send a gold spoon, a gift from the national chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to Congressman Hicks as a keepsake from her, in recognition of the kindness rendered her. This was the last request made by the dying woman, and the spoon will be sent to Mr. Hicks.

—The Woman's Home Companion for March contains half a dozen articles of startling interest. In "The Freak amusements of 'High Society'" the absurdities of the life of some of our very rich people are laid bare. Henry Irving Dodge begins a series of articles on "The Truth About Food Adulteration." Marion Harland returns to fiction, and contributes a serial as full of interest as those books which have made her the most popular woman writer in America. "The Moki Indian Snake Dance" gives a strange picture of savage America. There are four short stories by well-known writers. The departments are unusully full of matter pertaining to household interests and especially are they timely in suggestions for gardening and entertainments for the spring. Published by The Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

—Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change, of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of Woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

that bills seem to jump on a man, they come in such numbers and so frequently.

Cold weather, of course, may cause a greater consumption of coal but perhaps the coal is poor and tons of it must be used to get up even and ordinary heat.

Not so much with this Coal of ours. It neither flies up the chimney in smoke nor drops through the grate as ashes. It burns slowly and makes things red hot while burning.

THE GREAT GOD PAN

Trenham arrived at Cantico at 1:30. At 2 Norton's silent, efficient serving man was formally introducing him to the Hutch—his for a month—a squat, oriental-looking building standing in the tempered shade of the pines and larches and containing all those touches of home comfort usually ascribed to feminine quarters.

At 2:30 his tweed suit changed to a more formal costume, he emerged from the low, broad doorway, stirred by a pagan desire to get closer still to nature, out into the dim, cloistered places of the woods, where he might float deliciously upon a sea of silence, whose calm was unbroken save by the ripple of a bird note or the snapping of a twig.

"I say, but this is great!" burst from his lips luxuriously as he drew in long whiffs of the suave air with its warm, elusive scent of sweet, growing things. "This is life. This is what man was meant for."

As he ceased speaking he lifted his face to the soft breeze that caressed his cheek like a spirit hand and thought unfaltering things of civilization. What after all did this boasted condition mean? What but crowded cities with stone where turf should be, the roar of trains, shrieking of whistles, whizzing of autos, clattering of hoofs, and the grind, grind of office life. As he thought of it now, looking as he was straight into nature's smiling inscrutable face, it all seemed supremely ridiculous. Fauns and satyrs, hamadryads and naiads had been wiser.

At the end of an hour's walk he found that the path ended abruptly at a grassy knoll. For a few moments Trenham gazed with an appreciation too deep for words. Then with a sigh of contentment he sank down upon the thick grass and stretched himself ont, his head resting in the hollow of his clasped hands, his eyes narrowed to slits like gatekeepers who would say to the beauties about them, "One at a time, please."

And presently the slits became narrower and narrower.

"Spring," he muttered, musingly, "is just bursting into young summerhood." Then his lips twitched slightly and he tried again.

"That apple tree looks like some sweet, sedate Quaker lady."

He stretched his eyes open wide as if to fling off some irresistible influence.

"Good Lord, am I a poet after all?" he demanded comically of the shadowy self that always attend us, but never so palpably as in solitudes. And then he smiled and lay staring up into the great arch of the blue above him.

Again the slits grew narrower, almost imperceptible. A line from a poem learned in youth trailed across his mind —"Great Pan is dead!"

"It is a lie," he said drowsily. "Great Pan's not dead. Great Pan——"

The murmur ended in a knowing smile, the smile of one who has learned for a certainty what fools most mortals be and that its turn faded into gravity. Trenham slept.

"It's a singular sleeping beauty of a place—has a breathless, charmed air, as if it were under a spell. I believe there are fairies or godlings to be discovered."

So had Natica Duke written to a friend soon after coming to Cantico for the summer. There were few houses in the region—half a dozen within 20 miles, and her first impression for the country was only deepened by her long, solitary strolls. She had a mystical feeling that there was something to be discovered—some secret that she was forever on the verge of.

Godling, gnome or fairy, she fancied, might rise in her path at any moment without causing her any surprise, and she stopped short at the edge of the wood one day upon finding her favorite spot already occupied.

For the fraction of a second she half believed. Then she wholly disbelieved. No godling would appear in tan oxfords. Sandals were the utmost one could conceive! Still, as a mortal, the sleeping youth before her was worth consideration. A glance told her that and she cautiously drew a step nearer.

He lay so that a spreading branch of a tree shaded his face, his soft linen hat tossed on the grass beside him, thus revealing the thick hair, that looked as if it might have curled had not its owner sternly refused to hear of such a thing. His features reminded her sternly of certain marbles she had seen, they were so massive, yet so finished, and with girlish attention to dress she bestowed an approving glance on his white negligee shirt, the sleeves rolled up to the elbows, and the duck trousers to match. If he was not a godling he was at least a most attractive mortal.

Daringly she stood and gazed at him, tingling with the fear that he might awaken yet too interested to turn away. The blue of her eyes were matched by the color of the linen gown she wore. Around her neck a dandelion chain dangled like a cable of rich gold.

With a sudden movement she lifted the latter, breaking off a part of it and fastening it into a wreath. Again she hesitated. Then with her under lip held between her teeth in a way that showed the very merry dimples, she took a letter from her dress, hurriedly extracted a tiny pencil from an envelope, scrawled something on an unused sheet and tore it off.

Almost holding her breath she tiptoed nearer. He was sleeping very heavily. The scrap of paper she had twisted into the wreath. At last she stood within an arm's length of his head. She listened excitedly, but the long, even breaths assured her.

Slowly she bent over; lower and lower she descended until it rested on the crisp, dark hair. With the braced air of a person who feels that he is likely to be shot at any moment, she straightened up and waited, but he did not move. Then, with a last, admiring glance, for he looked like a veritable flower-crowned god now, she fled back along the path, and in a moment had disappeared in the woods.

Trenham woke from a slumber so deep that his very identity was lost. Long, lazy shadows darkened the sward about him. Who—what—where?

Something pressed upon his forehead and instinctively his hand went up, his fingers groping eagerly for some meaning in the soft, damp mass that met their touch. Then they closed upon the object and brought it around where his eyes could help.

He started at it in silence for a moment.

"Crowned, by Jove!" was his dazed exclamation when he last found speech. The scrap of paper caught his eye and he detached it, smoothed it out, and looked at it with absorbed curiosity.

"I salute thee. Great Pall, was scribbled thereon in a girlish hand, and at the words a light dawned upon him. Who was she and what was she like? How strange that she, too, should have been thrilled with the same weird sense of the nearness of pagan gods!

The dandelions were curling up like tired children, but Trenham carried the wreath home as carefully as if it had been of the flowers of Eden, and he smoked many pipes that night in the soft gloom of Norton's roomy porch, wondering how and when and where they would meet, and whether her eyes were blue or gray, and whether she was tall or short, dark or fair, his lady of dreams.

Afterwards he plumed himself upon having recognized her instantly, though if the truth were known it required no great perspicuity. Asked to dinner at the Stanton's—the nearest neighbors, though three miles away—he had accepted on the chance of getting some clue to the young lady.

At the did. At the sight of him the only other guest, a young woman, with the bluest of blue eyes, gave a startled but pleased look that flashed into her eyes and out again so quickly that he would scarce have been sure save for the slight flush that backed up his theory. Later on it transpired that she was the one girl in the neighborhood, and matrons, Trencham shrewdly argued, would scarcely be up to such pranks, or even thinking of the great god Pan.

For the rest, there are people who are still scandalized when they remember the queerness of the Trenham-Duke wedding. It took place in sylvan style a year later on the knoll overlooking the river, and the bride wore—can you believe it?—a wreath of dandelions!—Chicago Journal.

To Care for Consumptives.

Chairman J. Lee Plummer, of the house appropriation committee, introduced two bills in the legislature of Harrisburg on Tuesday, appropriating a total of $400,000 for consumptive hospitals in the Eastern and Western section of the state. In referring to them he says:

"I feel that the state ought to care for its consumptives and not appropriate its public moneys to private institutions for this purpose. After consultation with men of influence I have been encouraged to prepare and introduce bills to this purpose. Each bill carries an appropriation of $200,000, making a total of $400,000.

"The forestry department is the proper department to take charge of the matter for through it we can utilize the wild lands which the state owns. The camp at Mount Alto will be enlarged and as it is easy of access it will receive patients from the eastern part of the state. The new camp will be established at some place easily of access to the centres of population in the western part of the state to receive patients from that section.

LINCOLN A CATHOLIC.

Pioneer Illinois Priest Makes Imporant Statement.

[The Pittsburg Observer, Feb. 23, 1905.]

Despite the stormy weather Lincoln's birthday was jittingly celebrated by the pupils of the Immaculate Conception school, Germantown, Pa. The program for the occasion was ably carried out.

Rev. John W. Moore, C. M., made the address of the day. He told the children what a great man Lincoln was; of the evils and miseries of slavery, and how Lincoln seemed providentially sent to preserve the integrity of the Union.

Father Moore made mention of a fact not generally known, viz., that Lincoln was a Catholic, but owing no doubt to the scarcity of priests in Illinois, where Lincoln lived, and to his environments he drifted away from the faith of his fathers.

Father Moore stated that Father St. Cyr, an old pioneer priest of Illinois, and who afterwards died at the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph in Carondelet, St. Louis, Mo., told Father James McGill, C. M., of Germantown, and Thomas J. Smith, C. M., of Perryville, Mo., who paid Father St. Cyr a visit one day for the express purpose of finding out something about Lincoln, that Lincoln was a Catholic.

Father St. Cyr said that he often celebrated mass in Abraham Lincoln's father's house, and that young Abraham Lincoln, who was a boy then of some 10 or 12 years of age, frequently served his mass.

Inaugurals of 1789 and 1905.

Mr. Norman Hapgood makes an interesting comparison between the times of President Washington's and President Roosevelt's inaugurals, and among other things says:

The inaugural last week unfolds far other sights and a far different leader. When the first President was inaugurated the city was to bear his name was in the womb of time. When John Adams entered it, it consisted of half-finished edifices lying in a wilderness. Firewood was scarce, because none could be found to cut the trees. The spot was beautiful, but wild Savages and beasts still lurked among the thickets, and from the adjoining hill the wide view swept over distances unknown to civilized man. Today this capital of an immense and powerful race this fairest city swarms with Americans from vast western regions, which then no white man's eye had seen. It is dotted, also, here and there, on the occasion of the twenty-sixth President's inaugural, with people of dusky hue and varied garb, tokens of an empire undreamed of when Washington was alive. Conditions changing have altered profoundly the premises on which the philosophy of that day was based. It assumed remoteness from the other world as the essential of our position. Now we reach that world as easily as Washington came from Boston to New York. We speak to Europe more quickly than Washington could get a message from one wing of his army to another. Changing facts have meant changing policies, and yet in spirit the philosophy of 1789 guides our steps today. Could Washington be deposited in the city of his name, he would draw no quick conclusions. Haste was no ingredient of his nature. He would learn whether the eighty million people who had spread across his continent were happy, as this word goes. He would decide whether they were virtuous, in man's small way, and I think he would conclude that the country had done well with the inheritance which he left.

Politics and Humor.

In the world of politics the man who would obtain political preferment must be serious. No man who cultivates humor to the exclusion of his other gifts can hope to attain to the highest places in the political arena. The American citizen reserves the inalienable right to vote for whom he wills, and the serious man who suppresses his sense of humor rather than the man who cultivates it is honored with his preference. —Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

The March "Arena."

In the March "Arena" Rudolph Blankenburg described the ripening and revealing of political corruption in Pennsylvania under the Quay regime. This paper contains the startling expose of the criminal acts of Senator Quay which threatened to land him in the penitentiary; and the interest in the recital is much heightened by the reproduction of telegrams and autograph letters. There are also a number of portrait men who figured conspicuously in this great drama of modern political corruption. Mr. Blankenburg's series of papers is probably the most important contribution to the literature of the new crusade for political morality of the present year. Other papers of special value to people interested in the larger questions of life are David Graham Philips' interesting description of Socialism in Europe to-day; "A Pen-Picture of a Great Radical Meeting in Paris," by Frances Hardin Hess "The Arena's" Paris commissioner; "The Present Status of Co-operation in Great Britain," a compact and lucid story of the rise and present status of the great co-operative movement of Great Britain, by J. C. Gray, General Secretary of the Co-operative Union of Great Britain; and "The Nevada Referendum Victory," by Eltweed Pomeroy, President of the National Direct-Legislation League. Mr. Flower contributes two papers of special interest. In one he sharply challenges many of the conclusions and deductions of Professor Munsterburg in his notable work, "The Americans." The other is concerned with the rise, domination and overthrow of the Tweed Ring, and is illustrated with reproductions of cartoons drawn by Thomas Nast during the famous battle between entrenched political corruption and good government. The strongest purely literary feature of the issue is Professor Archibald Henderson's discriminating and thoughtful criticism of the dramas and social ideas of Gerhart Hauptmann. Another view of the divorce question is presented by the well-known educator, Professor Henry Gaines Hawn, of New York City. Professor Hawn, though a strong champion of the home and the family, is not in favor of restrictive divorce legislation. He makes some admirable suggestions not altogether unlike those which have been so successfully introduced in the Swiss Republic. Among the full-page pictures printed on India-tint paper in deep sepia ink, which are features of this number, are portraits of M. Jaures, the great French statesman, David Graham Philips, the brilliant young novelist and essayist, J. C. Gray, head of the co-operative work in England, and a remarkably beautiful half-tone photograph of William Ordway Partridge's celebrated "Madonna." Although this issue of "The Arena" is one of exceptional strength and cannot fail to prove indispensable to the more thoughtful people who wish to keep in touch with the vital problems of the day.

No More Stomach Trouble.

Dr. Oster's Age Limit.

Dr. Wm, Oster one of our most distinguished Medical Scientists last week states to the students of John Hopkins University the comparative uselessness of men over 40 and the absolute uselessness of men over 60. Such an assertion ignores the facts in human experience. History has a long list of Septuagenarians, judges, commanders, diplomats, Editors, Educators, ministers, scientists, artists and business man, who show us what ripeness of intellect means, out of the many we select a few as examples: Gladstone and Bismark were distinguished at 70, Franklin applied his macthless wisdom to our constitution at 83. Leo. XIII wrote encyclecals at 80 and acted as his own prime minister.

Von Moltke with the German armies crushed France at 70. According to Dr. Oster both Washington and Lincoln were to old to be President. Farragut entered Mobile Bay at 61. Dewey took Manilla at 60. Sampson and Schley won their victory when near the age of 70.

Milton wrote his greatest work at 80. Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood at 71. Michael Angelo painted the last judgment at 60 and shaped St. Peter's Dome, the finest piece of architecture in the world at 72. President Angell was distinguished as the President of Michigan University at the age of 76. Prof. Oster is himself 56 and is just going to Oxford University to occupy the highest medical position in the world. Prof. Oster is a physician of very high authority, but we think his declaration in this matter is at variance with the facts.

Some men have accomplished much work before 40 but many such overworked themselves and died before their natural maturity.

If our young men would take better care of their health they would be better men at 60 than the majority are now at 40.

CITIZEN.

—E. E. Curtin, of Northwood, has a stunted white Leghorn hen that is extremely intelligent and productive. The little fowl looked so distressed last fall that Mr. Curtin cared for her in the house and there the hen became a household pet with warm and pleasant quarters Last month the chicken began to lay, and in the past twenty-four day she has laid twenty-three eggs. All the eggs have been deposited in the same place, on a rocking chair, and often the hen has chased Mr. Curtin out of the chair in order to secure her favorite nest.

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer.

Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of the New-York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them as yet. Yours very truly,

CHARLES S. BODMAN.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right
C. M. Perrish

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Just as we go to press a telegram was received by Captain Taylor stating that Gov. Pennypacker had signed the death warrant for Ira Green and Wm. Dillon and fixed the date of execution as May 9th, 1905.

—Mrs. C. T. Gerberich is ill with stomach trouble at her home on Thomas street.

—Miss Helen McArdle, a sister of Father McArdle fell on the ice one day last week and dislocated her wrist.

—Professor Jagger, of Harvard University, is to head an important geological expedition to Iceland. It is expected to start from Cambridge about May 25. There will be fifty men in the party, which will have as an object the observation of the volcanic and glacial formations of that region.

—Dr. John P. Rote has presented to the Scientific Society of San Antonio the rattles of a monster rattleenake, consisting of thirty joints and end knob. According to authorities, this is probably the largest rattle heretofore found on any snake, and the specimen will be an interesting one in the Scientific Society's collections.

—Two dwellings at Milton were destroyed by fire Saturday evening, entailing a loss or $1,200 probably fully covered by insurance. The houses belonged to colored men, James Craig and John Bend, who occupied them with their families. Grant Cuspard, colored, lived with Mr. Bond. The fire originated from an oil stove.

—The York Bridge Co., represented by Boyd Musser, formerly of Bellefonte, secured the contract with the Northumberland county commissioners for the erection of a $65,125 bridge across the north branch of the Susquehanna river. The survey was made under the directions of Mr. Musser. Eleven other companies competed.

—Robert T. Garman is receiving deferential bows from his friends since the inauguration day that he had, just one day later than Roosevelt. A new boy has arrived at the Garman home on West Eleventh street. Mr. Garman is an old Bellefonte boy and his many friends join in congratulations that the little stranger may grow to be a wise and useful man.

—A recent bulletin issued by the University of California contains an account of another hundred new double stars discovered and measured there. They are of the same character as those previously discovered at Lick Observatory. The distance between the two components in most of them is very small, and nearly all would be difficult objects to observe under conditions less favorable than those at Mount Hamilton.

—William Andres and William Jones, two prospectors of Reno, Nev., report the discovery of a prehistoric man cave in the southwestern portion of Nevada. The has been explored to a depth of 300 feet, ands hows evidence of a prebistoric race, Between myriads of stalactites hieroglyphics have been found, and stone seats showing signs of use, have been discovered. Efforts are now being made to explore the innermost caverns of the cave.

—A peculiar accident happened to Frank Shoulder Lycoming county on Thursday morning. He, with two companions, started on a bear hunt. They were driving in a light vehicle and one of their rifles was discharged by a sudden jolt. The ball struck a buckle on a gaiter worn by Mr. Shoulder and drove it entirely through his foot inflicting a dangerous wound. The hunt was abandoned and the injured man taken to his home where he received medical treatment.

—The sixth satellite of Jupiter was discovered early in January by Professor Perrine, of Lick Observatory, by means of observations with the Crossley reflector. The satellite is five or six times farther away from the planet than the outermost of the five others; its period may be from six to eight months. The four very bright satellites were discovered by Galileo in 1610. The faint fifth one was discovered by Professor Barnard in 1892 with the Lick telescope. The fifth and sixth satellites are of approximately the same brightness.

—The Bellefonte all Stars base ball club are desirous of purchasing new uniforms which will cost them about $40. They are circulating a paper asking contributions and we believe there is enough sporting blood in Bellefonte to see that they get the desired amount. If they call on you give them a liberal contribution and encourage them and they will put up a good stiff game of ball that will reflect credit on Bellefonte. They are open for engagements and their first game will for the benefit of the Bellefonte Hospital.

—It is less than a month until moving day.

—Harbingers of spring are expected to arrive soon.

—By the calendar spring will be due in two weeks. We hope it will come in reality.

—Miss Bertha Laurie has accepted the position as typewriter in the law office of Harry Keller Esq.

—The case of Green and Dillen will be taken before the board of pardon at its regular meeting this month.

—The Hastings mansion on North Allegheny street is being re-painted. The work is in charge of S. H. Williams and his men.

—The American Express company's wagon has been repainted and looks quite handsome. The work was done by McQuistion & Co.

—During the past week Sheriff Taylor turned out five of his temporary boarders so that now he has but seventeen prisoners in the county jail.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lytle, of Pine Grove Mills, are mourning the death of their little baby girl, who died Wednesday night of pneumonia.

—Miss Mary McQuistion gave a dinner last Wednesday evening at which twelve covers were laid. It was in honor of Mrs. Bentley, of Pittsburg.

—The firm of Katz & Co, has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Joseph Katz who has gone into the clothing business at Lewistown. The new firm at this place will be A. Katz & Son.

—Two drunken men created quite a spectacle on High street Thursday morning. They rolled and tumbled all over the street and side walk in a disgusting manner. It was fun for the on-lookers however.

—Lawrence, the little six year old son of Kirk Tate of Philipsburg, who had the third finger of his left hand badly mashed the other day while jumping on "bob sleds," may lose that member, although the attending physician is doing his best to save the same.

—The new Presbyterian chapel in the Third ward, Jersey Shore, was dedicated Sunday. The pretty edifice is free of debt, and the congregation is gratified with its success in building the new place of worship, Sunday $1,050 was raised to apply on the new church.

—The effects of the severe winter is now being seriously felt on railroads. In cuts or marshy places the tracks are heaving as a result of the moderation of the weather. This condition will prevail until the frost has all left the ground despite the vigilance and efforts of the track forces.

—Gertha Murphy, the little three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, of East High street, last week drew the handsome doll chanced off by Mrs. J. A. Aikens. Because of her age the little Miss had chosen number three, which proved to be the lucky one in the drawing.

—Up to the present time there are six or more applicants for the pastorate of the Lutheran church, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. H. C. Holloway. Among the number are Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall; and Rev. William Rearick, of West Milton. All the applicants will be heard in trial sermons before any selection is made.

—Mr. Patrick Gerrity, who had his arm so badly injured in the planing machine at Crider's mill, a couple weeks ago, is out and at work again. The injured member is bealing up nicely and contrary to expectations will not be crippled to any extent. Mr. Thad Hamilton, who had his hand injured in the same machine, last week, is also around though it will be some time before he will be able to do any work.

—John C. Hoffman, of Philadelphia, one of the most expert counterfeiters of silver dollars, halves and quarters in the country, was arrested up Buffalo Run, Wednesday Feb. 22nd. by a secret service officer of Philadelphia who had been on his trail for some time. Hoffman and a gang of five others had made and passed spurious coin in Scranton, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburg and when arrested he had on his person $95 of the stuff. All the other members of the gang were likewise captured. Hoffman was tried in the United States district court, at Scranton, on Wednesday March 1st. found guilty and sentenced by Judge Archibald to ten years in the penitentiary

—H. H. Harshberger Esq., of Bellefonte, received a letter last week from his sister, Mrs. J. J. Lohr, of Pasadena, California, in which she enclosed a bunch of orange blossoms and says that the weather is perfectly delightful out there now, although they have had about seventeen inches of rain during what they call their rainy season. She also adds that she saw General James A. Beaver and wife and on Sunday they attended the Seventh street Presbyterian church in that city, and to their surprise the church was crowded with people, and hundreds stood on the outside with but one object and that was to get a passing glimpse of the distinguished citizen from Bellefonte who has figured so conspicuously in both war and politics of the great State of Pennsylvania. The General and his wife have been thus cordially welcomed in the West and naturally are having a pleasant time.

—Garden seeds are already on sale in the stores.

—Daniel Garman, who has been seriously ill is greatly improved.

—There are 47 applicants for liquor license before Judge Orvis for disposal.

—"Miss Bob White" will be the attraction at Garman's Opera House March 16

—It will not be long until the ice man steps into the shoes and the fortunes of the plumbers.

—John Wanamaker once said, "To discontinue advertising is like taking down your sign."

—George Stanford has been appointed agent for the American Express Company at Philipsburg.

—If the weather continues mild the hens ought to be able to bring the prices of eggs down pretty soon.

—We call the special attention of our readers to the new advertisement of John P. Lyon in this issue.

—Senator Dolliver of Iowa, is lecturing in Philipsburg tonight. Why can't Bellefonte secure such an attraction.

—The Star Course will close on Monday evening, April 3rd, with a concert by the Temple quartette.

—Thompson & Bartley have moved their livery from the stable near Parrish's drug store to the large Brant House stable

—The Central Pennsylvania Company to manufacture cigars and tobacco, of Bellefonte, was granted a charter at Harrisburg on Friday.

—The Legislature should not make the game and fish laws so complicated that nobody but a lawyer will understand what is expected of the public.

—George Kyler, a well known and highly respected old resident of Clearfield died in the County Home, aged 88 years. He was a brave soldier in the civil war.

—John Mitchau, author of "Archæology vs. History," died on February 5, He was a graduate of Ann Arbor, and was well-known among archæologists. He was fifty-three years old.

—Twelve locomotives a week are being delivered by the Baldwin works to the Pennsylvania railroad following the orders given by that road for 525 locomotives several weeks ago.

—There is to be a new livery stable in town. The Gault brothers George and James are to open an establishment of this kind in the stable back of Parrish's drug store formerly occupied by Bartley & Thompson.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Howard Canning company the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: W. P. Davis, Jackson Kline, George Weaver, J. W. Mayes, Alf. Schenck, D. A. Irwin, William Weber, Joseph Leathers and Joseph Diehl. The company paid 9 per cent dividend the first year.

—Brakeman John Watson, of East Lamb street, was badly bruised up but not seriously injured in a freight wreck near Snow Shoe Friday afternoon, A broken wheel on a coal train on the way to the mines caused ten coal cars to jump the track. Watson was thrown twenty feet and had a narrow escape from death under the wrecked cars.

—In this issue of the Bellefonte Republican you will find a supplement containing the Auditor's statement for Centre county. It is carefully compiled and shows that the County's affairs have been managed in a careful, economical and painstaking manner by the present Republican Board of County Commissioners. Centre county is in splendid condition financially and otherwise.

—A dwelling house recently purchased by Frank Kessinger, of Eagleville station, from Frank Taylor and located near the Beech Creek station on the B. E. V. R. R., was totally destroyed by fire about 8 Sunday evening. The house was not occupied, but Lawrence Nestlerode was to have moved in on Monday. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The loss is about $200 with no insurance.

—The horribly mutilated body of R. P. Cunningham, a freight brakeman on the Pittsburg division, was found just east of the station at South Fork about midnight Thursday night. The unfortunate brakeman had evidently fallen off his own train and been either killed or rendered unconscious, and was then struck by the engine of No. 4 as it passed South Fork, for when that train pulled into the Altoona station at 12.40 in the morning one of the man's arms, pulled off at the elbow, and a part of his coat were found on the front part of the engine.

—License and argument court was held Tuesday with Judge Orvis on the bench. The petitions for licenses were placed in his hands, several of which there were remonstrances against. Judge Orvis fixed the latter part of next week for hearing the testimony in regard to the licenses which were objected to. He stated his intention of insisting on the strict observance of the law by tavern keepers and liquor dealers and said he would show no partiality. He would be conservative in the granting of licenses and would not grant any until after he heard the testimony next week.

Stetson, the millionaire hat manufacturer, of New York, hoping that the rarified atmosphere of that western State will be more beneficial to his health than the changeable climate of Pennsylvania. May success and prosperity attend him.

A Pleasant Surprise.

On Monday evening, March 6th, the members and friends of the Baptist church of Milesburg gave their pastor, Rev. A. C. Lathrop, and family a very pleasant surprise by dropping in on them without previous notice. They came bearing mysterious looking packages—large and small, until the tables seemed to groan beneath their weight of provisions and useful things for the home. The parsonage was soon well filled with a loyal and appreciative people who gathered in honor of their pastor's birthday. As soon as the people were in and seated (or standing) pastor Lathrop was taken in charge of by several of his male members who marched him to the parlor doorway, where Mr. Henry Heaton on behalf of the members and friends of the church, in a neat presentation speech spoke the greetings of the people and presented the pastor with a beautiful and fine pulpit suit of clothes. The pastor very feelingly responded and thanked his people for their manifest kindness and love. The evening was passed all too soon in social ways, innocent games and in partaking of the dainty refreshments which the ladies served. It will be an occasion long to be remembered by both pastor and people and is proof of the hearty co-operative spirit that prevails in their church work.

Philips—Bolger.

The residence of ex-postmaster A. L. Bolger and wife, of North Second street, Philipsburg, was the scene Monday afternoon of a quiet but very pretty home wedding, the occasion being the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Ethel Josephine, to Charles Reuben Philips, of Tunnelton, W. Va., formerly of Philipsburg. Only the immediate friends were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George D. Penepacker, D. D., after which there were hearty congratulations, followed by a bounteous repast.

The happy young couple departed Monday afternoon on a western trip of two weeks, at the end of which time they will return to Philipsburg and be at home to their friends a short time before returning to Tunnelton, W. Va., to take up housekeeping.

The bride has been an assistant in the post office for several years, resigning her position there only a few days ago, and is one of Philipsburg's most charming young ladies.

The groom is a son of David Philips, formerly of Philipsburg, now living at Tunnelton, W. Va., and is a young mining engineer of considerable promise. He is a graduate of State College, and now holds a good position with a big coal firm at Tunnelton. He is a splendid young man and worthy of the bride he has secured. We desire to join the many friends of the happy couple in wishing them the fullest measures of bliss and prosperity in life's pilgrimage.

Bishop Garvey's Mother Passes to the Beyond

Mrs. Catharine Garvey, aged 90 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cassie Curtin, on Dudley street, Dunmore, near Scranton, Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock, after one week's illness.

Mrs. Garvey was the mother of Bishop Eugene A. Garvey, of the Altoona diocese of the Catholic church, and resided with her son when he was the rector of the Church of the Annunciation, Williamsport. She was a most estimable woman and has a host of friends who will sincerely mourn her death.

Mrs. Garvey emigrated from Ireland to this country 75 years ago, and spent the time in Carbondale, Williamsport and Dunmore. Her husband, Michael Garvey, was a well-known foreman for the Delaware and Hudson company on the old gravity road.

The deceased possessed many rare qualities and her gentle and kindly nature, intent upon doing good, won for her many warm friends.

The funeral was held Thursday at 10 o'clock from the Curtin residence. A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church, Dunmore, by Bishop E. A. Garvey.

"THE THESPIANS."

Presented "The Boomerang" at Garman's Opera House Monday Night.

Garman's Opera house was crowded Monday evening by a large and fashionable audience drawn together to witness the production of "The Boomerang" a farce comedy presented by "The Thespians" the famous damatic society of The Pennsylvania State College. This dramatic society which was organized back in 1898 has been growing better each year and last night's play was the best of them all. The play was well staged, costumes were good and the entire company played their parts to perfection. It abounded in laugbable situations and the interest of the audience was held from start to finish. The cast of characters was as follows:

Mr. Launcelot Bargiss, a retired party who becomes the victim of the inevitable; Josiah Francis Johnson, '05.

Paul Hollyhock; his son in-law; Guy Lenker Hoffman, '05.

Signore Palmiro Tamborini, Late Maitre de Ballet, Convent Garden, Howard Herman Heinrich, '05.

A Postman on his Round, Frederick Augustus Rauch Hoffeditz, '05.

Professor Gasleigh, Wellington Garfield Heckathorne, '06.

Jobbins, Hollyhock's farmer; Emory Luther Diehl, '06.

Mrs. Hypatia Bargiss; Harry Harper Aungst, '05.

Dora Hollyhock; Raymond Howard Smith, '05.

Jessie; with yearnings beyond her station, Vernon Fitzsimons.

The college orchestra under the leadership of Clark Plummer Stewart delighted the audience by their excellent playing and added a great deal to the enjoyment of the event.

The singing of Francis J. Saunders and also of the College Quartette was also a pleasing feature and was enthusiastically encored.

The proceeds went for the Woman's Guild of St John's Episcopal church and they realized a nice sum.

The patronesses were: Mrs. George I. Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth H. E. Callaway, Mrs. Edward Garman, Mrs. Edward Irvin, Mrs. J. Howard Lingle, Mrs. C. Frank Montgomery, Mrs. George G. Pond, Mrs. W. Frederick Reynolds, Mrs. Edward Richards and Mrs. Mollie Z. Valentine.

A Pleasant Happening in the Mountain City.

We take the following from Saturday's Altoona Tribune as it will interest Centre county people.

Mr. Harry Loner Friday celebrated his thirty-second birthday anniversary and in the evening he was agreeably surprised at his home, 1610 Twelfth avenue, by a number of his friends assembling and taking possession of the house to assist in celebrating the event. There were some sixty persons in attendance and they passed a pleasant evening in music and games. Mr. Loner received a handsome Morris chair and numerous other gifts which attested the esteem in which he is held by his friends. At a seasonable hour an excellent supper was served by Mrs. Loner and it proved one of the enjoyable features of the affair. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Loner and Miss Mamie Way, of Stormstown; Chester Rumberger, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frieze; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carner and son; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Mower and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mower; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Lever; Mr. and Mrs. C. Lever; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilkinson and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Crawford; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McNeil; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. A. Werth and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Long, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tyler, Misses Laura Foust, Abbie Blickendefer, Lydia Loner, Mina Loner, Mrs. Annie Way and daughter, Messrs. Wm. Leader, Lester Mower, John Hopkins, H. Neaffer, S. M. Delozier, G. W. Tiffany, Earnest McKnight, Edward Delo, Charles Rodkey and Mr. and Mrs. Plowman.

Scenes of Splendor Attend This Great Event.

IT WAS VERY IMPOSING

As Well as the Most Interesting Event of the Kind in the Nation's History.

STORY OF AN EVENTFUL DAY.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Roosevelt on Saturday took the oath of office before a vast gathering of the people he had been elected to serve. The attendant scenes were not unusual. Inaugurations from the time the east front of the capitol first became the setting of the ceremony have been much the same. Many of the central figures have officiated in like capacity on other occasions when presidents have acceded to the highest office in the gift of the American people. Chief Justice Fuller, in administering the oath, repeated a solemn function he has repeated four times—this his last. Yet, with all this repetition, nothing was jaded and everything appeared new.

The great crowd assembled for the crowning event of a day full of features, cannot be estimated even by comparison. It extended far beyond the reach of the voice and was so densely packed as to carry the stage out of the sight of many. The capitol plaze, resourceful in accommodating the thousands eager to view the ceremony was completely filled. People came by its numerous streets and avenues, which, like so many yawning, ravenous maws, greedily swallowed the throng, until every coign of vantage was occupied. The trees, barren of foliage, carried their human burden on limbs capable of bearing the weight of man or boy, and so far away as the terraces and marble steps of the Library of Congress thousands stood.

THE GREAT CROWDS.

Hours before the ceremony could be expected to take place the people sought the most advantageous positions. They came by every means of conveyance, carriages discharged their occupants blocks away, and cars in steady streams unloaded their passengers within the prescribed area from which the unlicensed vehicles were excluded. The number of conveyances of all kinds was totally inadequate to meet the demands of the public.

Some time before the beginning of the inaugural ceremony several thousand persons holding tickets entitling them to seats on the stand began to take their places. By 12 o'clock, the human garden which had flourished in the Senate and House galleries, was transplanted in the open air amphitheatre. The brilliant costumes of the women gave to the scene the finishing touch of color. Added to the acre of people seated, who looked down upon ten acres standing, were hundreds banked upon every projecting ledge of the capitol and filling the windows.

ENTRANCE WAS DRAMATIC.

At about 1 o'clock the official party came through the main door. Cheers were sent up from the enthusiastic multitude, all eyes were directed that way and strained to get a glimpse of the President. Shouts of "There he is" were heard frequently, but nearly every time the cry was sounded in false alarm.

The official entrance was dramatic. All except those who were participating in the ceremony were seated. When the justices of the Supreme Court, except Chief Justice Fuller, emerged from beneath the Corinthian pillars and marched down the sloping carpeted aisle to their station, they were greeted with applause. The Justices wore their robes and skullcape. Then came the members of the diplomatic corps in their gorgeous uniforms and they evoked thunderous applause. Led by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador and dean of the corps, and followed by the others in order of precedence, they took seats on the right of the stand. Strolling after them came members of the Cabinet, Senators and Representatives in Congress.

President Roosevelt came forth from between the massive pillars quietly and composedly. He was escorted by Chief Justice Fuller. With measured tread in harmony with the dignified step of the Chief Justice, the President advanced in state down the long aisle of distinguished guests. By this time all were standing and nothing could be heard above the roar of thunderous welcome. Immediately following came, arm in arm, the members of the committee on arrangements.

As the President passed down the aisle he bared his head and with characteristic sweep of hat bowed in acknowledgement of the salutations from the stand and the ovation from the people. His manner was not that of a man incurring onerous responsibilities, three years in the White House having familiarized him with the duties of the high office to which he was to be inaugurated.

TAKING THE OATH.

At a sign from Chief Justice Fuller the clerk of the Supreme Court stepped forward holding a Bible. A hush fell over the crowd. The President raised his right hand and the oath to support the laws and constitution of the United States was reverently taken amid deep silence. When this had been concluded there was practically no demonstration and the President began his inaugural address. As soon as he finished speaking he re-entered the Capitol and as he disappeared within the building a signal was flashed to the navy yard and the roar of twenty-one guns was begun in official salute to the President.

Bishop Garvey at Dedication.

The dedication services of the new Church of the Immaculate Conception, at Lock Haven, on Sunday, were attended by over a thousand people, a large number of whom were from out of town, principally from Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Bellefonte and Renovo.

The ceremonies were very impressive and were conducted under the direction of the Right Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, formerly of Williamsport, now Bishop of the Altoona Diocese. The day was one of gladness and thanksgiving to the members of the church, and to their rector Rev. J. N. Cordori, whose faithful services and untiring efforts made it possible to have such a magnificent house of worship.

The services were commenced at 10.30 a. m. After the dedicatory ceremony pontifical high mass was celebrated by Bishop Garvey. The Bishop was assisted in conducting the mass by the following priests: The Rev. P. McArdle, of Bellefonte; was the Bishop's assistant; the Rev. A. L. Reudter, of New Oxford, deacon of the mass; the Rev. B. J. Maucher, of St. Agnes church, Lock Haven, and the Rev. John Costello, of Williamsport, and the Rev. D. J. Bustin, of Jersey Shore, subdeacons of the mass; the Rev. J. T. Looney, of Meyersdale, deacon to the bishop; the Rev. J. J. Braddy, of Renovo, first master of ceremonies the Rev. F. P. Corcoran, Snow Shoe, second master of ceremonies, the Very Rev. D. J. Flynn, LL. D., vice president, Mt. St. Mary's, Emmittsburg, Md., censer-bearer, and the rector, the Rev. J. N Cordori.

The evening service began at 7:30 o'clock, and were in charge of the Very Rev. Father Flynn. The fourteen figures representing the stations of the cross, were blessed by him. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. D. J. Mustin, of Jersey Shore, and the discourse was indeed an excellent one.

A feature of both services was the singing of a children's chorus of fifty voices.

The church edifice is a truly magnificent structure and was erected at a cost of $37,000. The exterior is of Hummelstown brownstone, and the two lofty towers are capped with glided crosses. The old church was razed last summer and since that time worship has been conducted in the parochial school building.

Deer With Broken Back.

The people of Dewart and vicinity are much exercised as to what shall be done with a deer with a broken back that has been found not far from the village. They are afraid to display a humane spirit and kill the suffering and helpless animal, fearing they will be prosecuted for violating the game laws. The state game warden at Harrisburg has been notified of the plight of the deer and it is expected the state authorities will make a prompt move in the matter. It is not known how the dear was injured.

Bishop Talbot Honored.

The Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, Bishop of the Central Pennsylvania Episcopal Diocese, was recently honored while visiting his brother, the Rev Robert Talbot, rector of Trinity church at Kansas City, Mo. The Kansas City church club entertained him royally at a banquet at the Midland Hotel. He was also honored at a luncheon by the pupils of St. James' Military Academy

THE RECORD OF DEATHS!

Loved Ones Who Have Been Called Home

IN CENTRE COUNTY

And Adjoining Counties—Dr. John Bilger, Mrs. Julia McClintick, Dee A. Welsh and Others.

BRIEF SKETCHES OF DEPARTED ONES.

DR. JOHN BILGER.

Dr. John Bilger, a respected and esteemed resident of Centre county, died at his home at Pleasant Gap on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock of paralysis, after an illness of seven weeks. His death was a great shock to his family and his many friends throughout the county.

Dr. John Bilger was born in Middleburg, Union county December 25th 1843 making his age at the time of death 61 years 2 months and 8 days. He was the son of Jonathan Bilger and with his parents moved to Centre county in 1859 locating in Spring township. He attended the Union Seminary at New Berlin. He was married to Miss Rebecca Brooks who survives him with two children, William H., of Bellefonte, and Helen R., at home. The wedding occurred thirty-seven years ago.

She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Robert Sloteman,, and one brother William, both of Pleasant Gap, and by his step-mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger and the following half-brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mary Rees, Bellefonte; Thomas, of Blue Springs, Nebr.; Frank and Newton, of Severance, Kan.; Mrs. Abbie Rockey, Zion; Mrs. Lauretta Yohey, Bellefonte; Mrs. Elizabeth Bender and Annie, of Lancaster; Nellie, of Tyrone, Mrs. Phoebe Hile and Virgie, of Pleasant Gap.

Dr. Bilger was a kind, affectionate husband and father, honored and respected by all who knew him. He has been an active and consistent member of the Advent church for about thirty-five years.

He will be missed by his many warm and intimate friends both at home and in adjoining counties, where he is widely known.

The funeral services were held at the church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Ebersole of Sterling Run. Interment at Zion.

MRS. JULIA M. CLINTICK.

Mill Hall, March 7.—Mrs. Julia McClintick, widow of the late John McClintick, died Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Stewart, in Bald Eagle township, of congestion of the lungs. The deceased was taken sick sometime ago, and seven weeks ago was taken to the hospital at Lock Haven for treatment. She had so far recovered that she was able to be taken to her daughter's home, where she had been living about two weeks. She was improving nicely, when recently she contracted a heavy cold, until it terminated in lung trouble, when she began to grow worse until death relieved her of her suffering.

Deceased was aged 78 years and eight months, and is survived by eight sons and five daughters—Mortimer, George, Mrs. Amelia Riggle and Mrs. Charles Wasson of Johnsonburg; Clark and Edward, of Jacksonville; John, of Ridgeway; Andrew of Coalport; Elmer, of Cedar Springs; Reuben, of Penfield; Mrs. Bertha Dunkle, of Hecla; Mrs. Mina Crownoble of Pleasant Gap and Mrs. Alex Stewart, of Bald Eagle. Besides these she is also survived by 31 grandchildren and a number of great grand-children.

Mrs. McClintick was born in Penns Valley, and for the past 57 years has been a resident of Clinton county, always living in this vicinity. She was well known throughout the county and was highly respected and loved by all, her many kind deeds winning her a host of friends. For many years she had been a member of the Methodist church, always taking an active part in this work.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of her daughter in Bald Eagle township and interment was made in St. Pauls cemetery.

D. A. WELSH.

The many friends of Dee A. Welsh will be shocked to hear of his sudden death which occurred at his parents home in Coudersport on last Saturday. His death was due to heart disease and was entirely unexpected by his family and friends. A telephone message received here Saturday night by Miss Daisy Barnes announced the sad news of his death.

Mr. Welsh was employed for a year or two as a clerk in W. R. Brachbill's furniture store and later as an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He boarded with Mrs. Tanner on Spring street. A few weeks ago he resigned his position here and went to his father's home in Potter county. He was 26 years of age and a very exemplary young man. He was highly esteemed by his employer's and friends and his death has excited a great deal of sympathy here.

A Key to the Labor Problem.

It has become an axiom in the commercial world that in the long run those transactions must promote prosperity which are advantageous alike to buyer and seller. It is coming to be realized in the industrial world that the same thing is true regarding the arrangements between employers and employees, and that no arrangement is permanent that is not regarded as being beneficial to both. In other words, the only healthy industrial condition is that in which the employer has the best men obtainable for his work, and the workman feels that his labor is being sold at the highest market price.

The employer who insists on more service than he pays for, and the employee who demands excessive wages for his work, both lose in the long run. The former worries continually about how to manage dissatisfied workmen who are continually on the verge of a strike, and in dull times the latter lives in constant dread that his employer may no longer be able to continue business and he may be out of work. The important thing for the average workman is not that he shall have exceptionally high wages during times of great prosperity, but that he shall have continuous employment and fair wages at all times.—H. L. Gantt, in The Engineering Magazine for March.

The Home Paper.

An exchange publishes the following on the subject of the relation of the "Home paper" to the people of a community:

"Someone has well said that 'your home paper never loses interest in you.' This probably you have never given a passing thought. No matter whether you like the newspaper man or he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal mafters or petty spites to interfere with his work of news gathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best and dearest friends chronicle your success and your sorrows wherever you may be. Those who will forget you but for your home paper, are ever and anon reminded of your existence by some item in the village paper where you have spent your boyhood days. Others may deceive and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you do not always deserve it, but a newspaper on the right lines has no pets, and should it at any time say things that cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said nice things for which you fail to give it credit."

Flowers from Jerusalem.

Mr. John P. Harris, a few days ago, received an interesting little album from Jerusalem which contains numerous specimens of the flowers of Palestine. The covers of the album are made of olive wood and the work of transferring the flowers to the inner pages is exquisitely done, preserving the shape, colors and texture of the leaves and blossoms as perfectly as in the natural state. It is a curious and interesting bit of art. A letter accompanying the album stated that the sender was a poor man who supported his family by making and selling these books.

Died.

Mrs. Clarissa M. Holmes, wife of W. M. Holmes, Esq., died at her home in Wilkinsburg at 5 o'clock Thursday morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by her husband W. M. Holmes and daughters, Mary, Adaline and Cora at home and two sons, Wesley at home and John, of Philadelphia. She also leaves one brother, Col. Evan M. Miles, U. S. A., San Francisco, Cal.

The funeral was held at Wilkinsburg this morning. Interment at Lock Haven this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE NEW BORO COUNCIL MEETS.

President Jenkins Announces His Committees.

FOR THE NEW YEAR

D. F. Fortney Re-Elected Borough Solicitor—Thos. Shaughensy, Sr., Street Commissioner—S. D. Rine, Water Superintendent and J. H. Wetzel, Boro Engineer.

THE BUSINESS THAT WAS TRANSACTED

The old borough council of 1904 met in the council chamber in the public building Monday morning at ten o'clock wound up the business of the year and adjourned.

Those present were Messrs Kirk, Mallory, Fenlon, Seibert, Wise, Keichline, Keller, Derstine and President Jenkins in the chair.

Burgess Walker made a report for the year 1903 and 1904 which showed that his administration was making an excellent record.

Notning of importance was elicited from the different committees.

Dr. Kirk moved that an order for $2,000 be drawn for the sinking fund.

Burgess Walker swore in the newly elected councilmen Messrs. W. H. Derstine, North Ward, Henry Brown, South Ward. Dr. M. A. Kirk, West Ward. James K. Barnhart was sworn in as Boro Treasurer, Thomas Howley, Overseer of the Poor, and M. A. Jackson, Auditor.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Street pay roll	$ 30 38
Police pay roll	50 00
W. T. Kelley, clerk	15 80
L. C. Bullock	6 60
Logan Hose Co	12 00
Bellefonte Gas Co	48 10
Bellefonte Electric Co	14 40
" " "	353 85
J S Knisely	1 70
"	1 25
Water Works pay roll	98 65
Bellefonte Electric Co	4 35
W. B. Rankin	25 00
F. K. Foster	25 00
A. Allison	11 91
W. F. Reynolds	175 00
G. M Mallory	70
Sinking Fund	2000 00
	$2874 79

Immediately on the adjournment of the old council the new council was called to order by the clerk W. T. Kelly. It was organized by electing W. R. Jenkins for a second term as President, and Wm. T. Kelly for his third term as clerk. Both were elected by acclamation.

President Jenkins made a graceful speech on taking the chair thanking the council for the honor conferred. He said that he hoped that the pleasant relations of the past year would be continued and that the work of the council in the coming year might meet with the popular approval of the people.

Mr. Kelly has made a most competent and painstaking clerk and his re-election is to be commended.

Council then adjourned to meet Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The new borough council met on Monday evening at 7 o'clock with President Jenkins, presiding and the following members present: Kirk, Fenlon, Brown, Seibert, Wise, Keichline, Keller and Derstine.

The bond for the new boro treasurer Mr. Barnhart was fixed at $25,000.

Street—Derstine, Fenlon, Brown.

Water—Fenlon, Wise, Seibert.

Fire and Police—Wise, Keichline, Keller.

Finance—Keller, Kirk, Seibert.

Market—Keichline, Derstine, Wise,

Sanitary—Brown, Fenlon, Derstine.

Village Improvement—Keller, Keichline, Brown.

Water Improvement—Fenlon, Brown, Seibert, Keichline, Wise.

D. F. Fortney Esq., the Borough Solicitor, was re elected without opposition. He has been a careful advisor in the past and has always given the matters brought before him his most careful attention. He is one of the oldest and best attorneys at this bar and council made no mistake in re-electing him.

J. Henry Wetzel had no opposition and was re-elected boro engineer without a dissenting voice. A most deserved honor.

Thos. Shaughensy, Sr., was also chosen without opposition to succeed himself as Street Commissioner. This will make 22 years of faithful service in this capacity.

Samuel D. Rine was recommended by the Water committee for re-election as Water Superintendent and was elected by acclamation Samuel Rine has filled the bill satisfactorily before and will do so again

There were four candidates for the police force as follows: Amos Mullen, George Jodon, George A. Eberhart and J. W. Rightnour. The fire and police committee could not agree so they left it to council and they decided to hold it over for two weeks.

The report of fire marshal, H. P. Kerns for the past six months was read and approved. It was well gotten up and showed that Mr. Kerns is looking after duties in a satisfactory manner.

The Yeager Swing Co., submitted a proposition looking to the renting of a portion of the Phoenix Mill Plant. This company has out grown its old quarters in the old car shop office five times over. They offered the council $300 a year for the first three years and $400 a year for the last two years. The offer was accepted with a proviso that if for any reason the council threw up the lease on the Phoenix plant the contract would be null and void.

Mr. Wise moved that a committee of three with President Jenkins as a member and chairman be appointed to meet a committee from Tyrone council to examine the provisions of the E. J. Pruner will in regard to the establishing of an Orphans home in this place. The motion carried and the President appointed Messrs. Kirk and Wise on this committee with himself.

The bond of Thomas Howley, Overseer of the Poor in the sum of $3,000 Fidelity & Deposit Co., of Maryland was offered and accepted.

Defeated Bellefonte Academy.

The Normal school basket ball team of Lock Haven closed its series of home games for this term by defeating the Bellefonte Academy team Friday night by the score of 51-2. To the audience it looked like an easy proposition, but the large score was in reality due to the improved playing of the home team more than to any particular weakness on the part of their opponents. Winslow moved to guard, and Tobias to forward, each played a better game than in their previous position. Logan at centre, ran the games off accurately. Snyder at forward, played his usual steady game, and Ketcham at guard, who has the faculty of making his 135 pounds cover more gymnasium space than anybody of his size, covered his man so completely that he never saw the ball, Barry, who substituted for Ketcham in the latter part of the second half, carried out the same policy. In fact the home team played the kind of a game than would have made a much stronger team than Bellefonte's look easy. This team certainly did not lack grit and played a snappy game to the very finish. Beddall particularly won the admiration of the crowd by breaking away repeatedly and running the ball down the floor successfully, except when he fouled by dribbling.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Senator Knox Ill.

Pittsburg, March 6.—It is announced here that Senator P. C. Knox, the junior Senator from Pennsylvania, is critically ill in Florida, and there is grave fear among his friends that he may not be able again to take his seat in the United States Senate.

The first intimation of the serious illness of Mr. Knox came from Philadelphia, where it is announced that two well-known Republican politicians had gone to Florida to investigate personally the condition of the Senator, and they had returned with the startling news that the rumor that Mr. Knox was suffering from Bright's disease, instead of grip, was true.

However, a few days later there came the news from Philadelphia that an important conference on railroad rates, to be held here, could not be held because Mr. Knox, the prime mover, could not be here. This was about February 11, and at the request of Knox's physicians this was postponed until February 17. There was no chance of having this meeting on the second date, either as the condition of the junior Senator did not improve, and it was given out that he would go South for some time for his health.

AWFUL CRASH OF EXPRESS TRAIN!

Rear End Collision Between Special Trains

AT CLIFTON STATION

First Train had Stopped for a Hot Box and Second Could not be Stopped in Time

THE WRECKAGE TOOK FIRE.

Pittsburg, March 4.—In a rear end collision last night between two special passenger trains from Cleveland on the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad, en route to Washington, six men and one woman were killed and twenty others injured.

The accident happened at Clifton station, eight miles west of here, and was caused by the first special stopping for a hot box and the second followed so closely that the flagman had not time to get back far enough to prevent the collision.

The first train carried a battallion of the Ohio engineers. It was made up of six coaches and a baggage car. The second train with the same number of cars carried the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, with a band and twenty-five or thirty-five women.

When the crash came the passengers in the rear car of the first train were the principal sufferers and all of the fatalities were in that car. The wreckage took fire from the engine and the entire first train and three cars of the second were burned.

New trains were made up and sent to the scene to bring the dead and injured here.

Major J. B. McQuigg, who was in command of the Engineers' battalion, had both legs broken at the thigh and will probably die.

Captain Charles E. Pope was the only officer of the Engineers's batalion to escape injury and he will be in command of the battalion which will return to Cleveland The Tippecanoe club will continue their journey to Washington.

When roll call was made of the Tippecanoe club only two men were missing. They may be among the injured who were taken to the hospital at Rochester, Pa.

The engineer of the second train says that the block signal showed a green light and his train went ahead at the rate of about forty-five or fifty miles an hour. When the impast came the engine of the second train ploughed through the rear Pullman, in which the officers were, and half way into the tourist car just ahead of it.

Two men died while being taken to the Beaver county hospital at Rochester. Their bodies will be brought to this city for identification.

Cleveland, March 4.—The superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city has received the name of C. T. Scott, a Pullman conductor, of Chicago, who came on with the car, as having been killed. The superintendent believes that one dead man in whose pocket was found, the card bearing the name C. Healt, is Scott, and that he had another name card in his pocket.

Presbyterian Pastor Installed.

Nearly all the churches in Williamsport were represented in the congregation at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening when the installation of the Rev. William Charles Hogg occurred. The edifice was not large enough to accommodate the congregation. Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York city, delivered the sermon of the occasion, which was a masterly effort. The charge to the people was delivered by Rev. William E. Thomas, D. D. of Lewisburg and the charge to the pastor by Rev. Robert Hunter, D. D., of Philadelphia.

Danville's New Bridge.

Danville's new steel bridge over the Susquehanna is fast nearing completion The last span has been swung into place, and it is possible now for footmen to cross on the planks. The Danville newspapers are claiming that it will be the handsomest river bridge in the state. It will contain a wide driveway to be used for teams and a trolley line and a six foot walk on each side of the driveway.

AN ACT TO PUBLISH THE LAWS:

Representative Reitmeyer Has Introduced a Bill at Harrisburg.

Representative Reitmeyer, of Lycoming county, has introduced in the house a bill providing for the publication of the acts of assembly from session to session in a sufficient number of newspapers in each county. For years there has been discussions of the necessity of such a measure. Every two years a large number of important laws are passed and with the exception of a comparatively favored class these acts are unknown to the people. As a result there are many violations of law through ignorance of these enactments, especially such acts as those regulating the sale of foods, the hunting of game and fish, and similar measures.

There has been much hardship as a result of legislation of this class and the proposed law is one that will commend itself to the people of the commonwealth. While ignorance of the law is no excuse under our system of jurisprudence the fact that new laws are unknown to the people ought to be a mitigation of the offenses recently charged against them. About all that many persons know of the new acts of assembly is what they see in a fragmentary way from time to time during the consideration of the bills by the Legislature. Mr. Reitmeyer has the right idea. As New York has been publishing the laws of that state in the newspapers for many years there ought to be no opposition to the bill.

Easter This Year.

The latest date on which Easter can fall is April 25, It falls this year on April 23. Three times within the nineteenth century there was a late Easter In 1848 Easter Sunday was April 23, in 1859, it fell on April 24, and in 1836, beautiful sunshine and blossoming flowers bore witness to the fact that April 25 represented the date of the great spring festival. During the present century there will be two late Easters beside that of this year. In 1943 it will occur on April 25, and the year 2000 will be marked by the chronicling of the holiday on April 23. Lent begins on March 8.

The date for Easter is determined by the first calendar moon on or after March 21. Count 14 days from the calendar moon and Easter will be the first following Sunday. This year the calendar moon is April 4; add 14 days and the first Sunday following will be Easter.

Twenty-Nine Squirrels in One Tree.

A number of men are now engaged in cutting paper wood up along Spring creek in Benner township, among them being Sturgis Charles who vouches for the following story. One day last week the men cut down a large birch tree which proved to be hollow. The fall broke it in two and out scampered just twenty-nine squirrels, of the red or "piney" variety. The tree was felled a couple days after the fall of a fresh snow and yet not a squirrel track led to or from the tree while not a nut or any other kind of squirrel food was found inside the tree, facts which prove conclusively that squirrels do hibernate; and yet the little animals were in no wise dormant, as one of the woodchoppers found out to his sorrow when he caught it and had his finger bitten through and through.

A Big Exodus to Dakota.

Tuesday, Feb. 28th, a party of twenty-three people from Haines township passed through Bellefonte on their way to South Dakota where they expect to permanently locate and engage in farming. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Boone and five children; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hess and six children; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hess, of Feidler, and William Musser, of Coburn, all of whom will locate near Scotland, and Mr. and and Mrs. A. W. Wetzel, also of Feidler, who will locate at Menno. Several other families from that neighborhood also contemplate going to Dakota later in the year.

New Swindling Scheme.

The postoffice department meut has sent out warning to hotelkeepers, merchants and others to be aware of purchasing money orders, as swindlers are operating with them extensively. The scheme is to purchase an order for $6 or $8 and then raise it to $60 or $80, With the increasing order they pay hotel bills or purchase merchandise for small amounts and get $50 or $60, as the case may be, in change. When the order is presented at the post office it does not agree with the advice, and by that time the swindler has departed.

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA ROUND TABLE.

To be Held at Lock Haven; Pa. March 17---18, 1905.

The Central Pennsylvania Round Table of Superintendents and Principals will hold its semi-annual meeting in the State Normal School Chapel, Lock Haven, on the 17th and 18th of March, 1905,

All friends of education are cordially invited to be present. The meetings will be informal and a free interchange of opinion will greatly enhance the interest. A large majority of the questions on the program have been suggested by the Superintendents and Principals who are members of the Round Table. The Round Table is exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the State, and his lecture alone will be ample compensation for any inconveniences that may be experienced in order to attend. Every indication points to a large attendance; will you not be one of the number?

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, 1:30 O'CLOCK.

1. "What Records Should a Principal or Superintendent Keep?" 2. "What Place Should be Given, and What values Assigned to Commercial Subjects in the High School?" 3. "Shall the Minimum Salary be Raised?" 4 "How Can We Get Better Results in Spelling?" 5. "Is There a Gap Existing Between the Grammar School and the First Year of the High School? If So How Shall We Remedy It?" 6. "Should the High School Aim to Prepare for College?" 7. "How to direct School Supervision so as to Detect the Weakness of Teacher and Pupils." 8. "School Libraries, Their Use and Abuse." 9. "Secret Societies in the High School." 10. "School Publications, Literary Societies—Their Relation to work in English." 11. "Sense Training in the Lowest Grades." 12. "Drawing in the Rural School."

FRIDAY EVENING, 7:45 O'CLOCK.

SPECIAL TOPIC, discussion limited to thirty minutes: Ethical Values in History.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

"The Economic Features of the Birds and Animals of Pennsylvania," by Prof. H. A. Surface. Economic Zoologist of Pennsylvania.

SATURDAY MORNING, 9:00 O'CLOCK.

1. "What Constitutes the Ideal Secondary Teacher?" 2. "What Constitutes a Common School Education?" 3. "Educational Aims." 4. "What Shall be the Professional Training of the Teacher?" 5. "Common Errors in Teaching." 6. "School Discipline Versus School Order." 7. "The School in Relation to Aesthetics," 8. "The School and the Home." 9. "Truancy."

Lock Heven is easily accessible to all who desire to come. Trolley cars leave the Penna Railroad station every 20 minutes, passing several good hotels on their way to the Normal School. Hotel rates can be had for $1.50 to $2.00 per day.

The Virtues of Vin-Te-Na...

Your knowledge of the workings of the "human machine" no doubt makes you aware of the fact that the nervous system is fed and sustained by and through the blood.

When the blood is charged with the elements which nature designed, the entire nervous system and all the organs are kept in a healthful state.

Without the force which the nerves absorb from the blood, both brain and body are poor machines. Vin-te-na contains just those elements which are wanting in impoverished, poor blood. It was found on both common sense and scientific knowledge. It has conscience and integrity back of it. Vin-te-na is the one medicine that does precisely what it was designed to do, i. e. gives life and nerve-food to the blood. It actually cures every one of those disorders which come from impoverished blood.

RICH LADY'S DEATH A MYSTERY

Mrs. Jane Stanford Dies Suddenly at Honolulu.

WAS IN GOOD HEALTH

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN POISONED.

Honolulu, March 2.—Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford, of San Francisco, widow of former United States Senator Leland Stanford, died Tuesday night at the Moana hotel here. Suspicions circumstances surround her death. Mrs. Stanford told a friend here that an attempt had been made to poison her in San Francisco and that that was the reason for sailing on the steamer Korea for this place February 21.

Before retiring Mrs. Stanford took a dose of bicarbonate of soda, which she purchased at San Francisco. It is reported that the soda contained strychnine, but this report cannot be verified.

An autopsy on the remains was performed yesterday afternoon. The physician who conducted the autopsy said that the cause of death was tetanus of the respiratory organs, but that he cannot state how the tetanus was brought about until after an examination of the contents of the stomach. No inquest will be held until High Sheriff Henry receives the report of the chemist. This report will probably be received today.

The bottle containing the bicarbonate of soda bears the label of Charles Felis & Co., Adelaide, Australia, but it is believed that it has been refilled since it was purchased there. Miss Bertha Berner, Mrs. Stanford's secretary, says that the previous attempt upon the life of her employer was made January 14 last, at her home on Nob Hill, San Francisco, when strychnine was found in a bottle of mineral water. Miss Berner said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"We went to a picnic yesterday and were planning to go to one today to Halaewea, a suburban resort. Our lunch yesterday consisted of the ordinary cold dishes prepared at the Moana hotel, and there was nothing in it of the canned variety. Mrs. Stanford ate very heartily. She expressed great enjoyment in her trip and said she felt very well.

"We returned to the hotel at 4 o'clock and Mrs. Stanford retired to her room for a rest. Later she dressed for dinner. When the soup was served she said that would be sufficient, as she was not hungry.

"We then went to the veranda, where Mrs. Stanford planned the trip to Halaewea yesterday. She then said she would retire early, so as to be refreshed for the trip. At 8:30 Mrs. Stanford sent for her maid, May Hunt, whom she had recently employed. She then said to me: "I will retire and take my medicine. Please get it for me."

"I got a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, one purgative tablet and a bottle of mineral water. Mrs. Stanford forgot to take the medicine and laid down and slept. As soon as she awoke she took the medicine and again retired.

"Mrs. Stanford soon thereafter was seized with convulsions, which threw her out of bed. The maid and myself came in answer to her call, as did also a guest from a nearby room. She said, 'I am poisoned.' The convulsions continued in spite of the efforts of her physician. The bottle of bicarbonate of soda was purchased by me at Adelaide some years ago, but I think it had been refilled for Mrs. Stanford at San Francisco. I don't know by what druggist."

Centre County Lady Weds Clinton County Man.

A very pretty home wedding took place Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock when Miss Sadie A. Auman, of Woodward, Centre county, became the bride of Armstrong Quigg, of Lock Haven. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. O. Irvin at the home of the groom's father, David Quigg, who resides on the Lusk Run road near the Normal school, at Lock Haven. There was about 25 immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom present to witness the pretty ceremony. After congratulations had been extended to the happy couple the guests partook of an elegant wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Quigg left on a short wedding trip, and on their return will temporarily resides at the home of the groom's father. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

A BLUSTERY MARCH.

Hicks Says Equinoctial Tempests Will Cause Big Blizzards.

Rev. Iri Hicks' predictions for March do not anticipate the angle worms crawling up out of the ground, the singing of blue birds, or the chirping of robins, but instead we are to have more winter in the form of blizzards, snow, sleet, rain, cold, freezes thaws and so on. Hear him:

The first storm period centers on the 3d, 4th and 5th, having for its disturbing factors earth's vernal equinox, Vulcan influence of the moon new at solor eclipse node.

Probable Results:—A very low barometer, changing to much warmer, southerly winds and general threatening, will culminate in rain, sleet and snow storms within forty-eight hours of noon on the 5th. Destructive sleet storms will be characteristic of this and the storm period immediately following.

The second storm period is from the 7th to the 12th, central on the 9th, the earth's equinox, the mercury period, the vulcan force with moon in apogee and on the equator all combining to produce disturbances.

Probable Results: Unsettled and threatening conditions will prevail at the beginning of this period, but marked indications of severe and general storms will increase by the 7th. The barometer will fall to very low readings, and furious storms of rain, turning to sleet and later to blizzards will pass over the country generally about the 8th to the 11th. Equinoctial tempests will rush northward from the equatorial region, striking many waters and coasts lying in the paths of such storms, all around the globe. These storms up from the south seas will have their counterpart in sweeping boreal storms from the northwest.

The third storm period is central on the 15th, 16th and 17th, with moon at first quarter and north declination, the vulcan force and earth's equinox nearing its centre, as disturbing causes.

Probable Results:—Under strains of the vernal equinox, there is constant tendency all through this month to storminess and sporadic, precipitation in cold rain, sleet and snow. But this tendency rises to a maximum at the regular and reactionary storm periods, such a maximum will appear on the 15th, 16th and 17th bringing fall of the barometer, higher temperature and more decided rain and snow storms. Several days of high barometer, and an approach to fair, cold weather will succeed this period but weather that calls for care of life and well-being of man and beast.

The fourth storm period covers the 19th to the 24th inclusive, being coincidently central with the earth's equinox on the 21st. The moon at full, on the celestial equator and in porigee, adds its influence to those of vulcan and earth at this period.

Probable Results:—The indications are that some of the most general and severe disturbances of the month will appear during this period. Early in the period the barometer will indicate possible dangen in many parts on lank and sea, and as early as the 20th well defined storm areas will take up their march from west to east across the country. General rains with moderate temperature, electrical displays and tropical storms, will prevail up to about the 21st. South sea hurricanes and inland tornadoes to the south are quite probable with down pours of rain amounting to local floods. About the 21, rains will turn to snow and sleet cover all sections central to northern, and a phenomenally high barometer out of the northwest will precipitate violent northwesterly gales and blizzards from the 21st to the 24th, all winding up progressively by a grent March cold wave.

The fifth storm period is central on the 27th, 28th and 29th. The vulcan reactionary and the moon at last quarter and south declination, being added to earth's equinox as disturbing causes.

Probable Results:—The prevailing cold which followed the preceding period will relax at this time, the barometer will fall moderately, and more storms of rain and snow will appear, passing eastwardly and shift of winds to cold northwesterly will follow these disturbances.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Confesses Big Judgment.

The Altoona and Philipsburg connecting railroad property, through Attorney John B. Uhle, of New York, Thursday confessed judgment in the United States circuit court in favor of Samuel P. BOMB THROWN IN WARSAW!

Into the Court Yard of a Police Station.

TROUBLES REPORTED

St. Petersburg Advices Are to the Effect That the Outlook Throughout Russia is Far from Reasoning.

A FOREMAN OF GAS WORKS STABBED.

Warsaw, March 3.—A bomb was thrown from a window overlooking the court yard of the Muranoff district police station at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It fell in the midst of a group of soldiers, but did not explode. Two Jews have been arrested for supposed connection with the affair. No details are available, as the authorities are very reticent.

Disturbances are reported to have taken place in several parts of the city during the afternoon. At the leather enamel works two workmen fired several shots at two of the directors as the latter were leaving the factory. The shots did not take effect and the assailants escaped.

A military patrol attempted to arrest some striking Jewish shop assistants in Krucza street, who were engaged in forcing shop-keepers to close their premises. The strikers fired on the patrol repeatedly, but without injuring any of them, and then escaped.

The question of gas supply is causing much alarm. The director of the company notified the governor general that the stock of gas on hand is sufficient to last only till Saturday. Unless the government intervenes and compels the strikers to return to work, the city will be in darkness by Sunday night. The gas works have been operated by soldiers for four weeks past, under the supervision of foremen who did not join in the strike. In consequence of the soldiers being without experience the machinery has become so dirty that it will be impossible to continue the manufacture of gas without qualified workmen. The foremen, who have been working forty-two hours at a streich, are unable longer to bear the strain.

During yesterday morning's disturbances strikers stabbed a foreman of the gas works, who died last night. The other foremen are panic-stricken and refuse to work longer. They have left the works and resigned their positions, fearing the vengeance of the strikers. Unless the authorities take action, the directors of the gas works will telegraph a report of the situation to the minister of the interior today and disclaim further responsibility.

It appears that the chief point in contention between the company and the strikers is the latter's demand for the discharge of forty German engineers. The company is a German concern, and hence refuses to comply with the demand of the strikers.

In view of possible disturbances on Saturday and Sunday the gas complications are adding greatly to the danger of the situation.

Evangelical War Over.

Evidence that dissensions among the two branches of the Evangelical association is over were given at Pottsville Sunday. The East Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical association was held in that city and Sunday the churches of the United Evangelical branch were occupied by ministers of the parent body. The war between the factions, which were bitter for some years and which divided the church, has subsided and a better christian spirit prevails, and indications point that in the very near future both branches will be working in harmony for the common good.

A Buried Railroad.

The narrow gauge road between Mt. Jewett and Kane, over which in days gone by, B., B. & K. trains were wont to run, is buried. Snow is deep on the level in all sections of this county, but on the "Big Level" it is especially deep. The storm king piled up a series of immense drifts along the line and the proprietors of the road became disgusted and suspended operation. Later on the tracks will be uncovered and the road will resume business.

Death of Thomas Twigg.

[Published by request.]

Friday morning, Feb. 24, Mr Thomas Twigg, of Sandy Ridge, surrounded by his family and near friends, passed into the great beyond.

The circumstances connected with his death are peculiarly sad and caused a gloom and sadness to settle upon the entire community. Thursday morning in usual health he left his family and friends and started for his daily toil—to work in the coal mines at Retort, a short distance from Sandy Ridge. In the afternoon the sad news passed from lip to lip that Thomas Twigg was seriously hurt while at work, several tons of coal and rock had fallen upon him. He was immediately conveyed to his home and medical aid summoned. Everything that medical skill, and loving hands could do was done for him, but he had received internal injuries to such an extent that the following morning as above stated, he passed away.

Just one week before his aged mother entered the spirit world, little did he or any of that group of mourners think, as they met the following Monday and took the last leave of their mother, that at the same hour one week hence they would again be called and see the coffin lid close upon the earthly remains of another so near by the ties of nature. But such is the frailty of human hopes and plans and the uncertainty of life.

Deceased was a native of Centre Co., and has lived there nearly all his life He was born May, 1859, making his age at time of death a little less than 46 years. He was a sober, honest, upright citizen, and his death is a severe blow to his many friends and his loss will be deeply felt in the community in which he lived.

He is survived by his wife and six children: Samuel, of Sandy Ridge; William, Foster, Chester, Annie and George, all at home. Services were held in the M. E. church on Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. G. M. Shriner, a former pastor assisted by Rev. Gladdas, of Houtzdale, a friend of the family. Rev. Shriner spoke eloquently and fittingly of the deceased, mourning for him as a personal friend and paying a high tribute to his beautiful life and noble character.

Interment was made in Osceola cemetery and a large concourse of sorrowing friends followed him to his last resting place.

NOTICE.

I am in search for a lost key as a living witness to testify that I am a son of Mulura Weaver of Ohio and that you knew him in Centre Co.

Mulura Weaver was born Feb. 27th. 1820 at Dayton Ohio and came to Bellefonte, Pa. the year of 1844 and was married to Miss Jane Hines of Nittany Valley and worked for Colonel Gray for some years and he then worked for Moses Thompson at Centre Furnace for many years and he then moved to Green Wood Furnace in 1861, and his uncle John D. Steward of Indianapolis, died in the year of 1866 and willed to the said Mulura Weavers children the sum of $15,000 to be paid as soon as the youngest child came to be 21 years old. But it is 38 years ago so I must look up this estate as it is a total of $48,000 due to the three brothers as the eldest is Moses Thompson of Port Matilda Centre Co. Pa, and 2 brothers in Comens Co. Neb. Asbury and W. M. D farmers. And I am still left here to represent myself as the name of Moses Thompson Weaver, a son of Mulura Weaver that was born Friday Aug. the 19th day 1853 at Centre Furnace. And I do hereby give this to the readers of this county as a notice for me to get some person to identify me that knew my father Mulura Weaver at Center Furnace, Centre Co. and oblige M. T. Weaver, Port Matilda, Pa.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of Indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas on the Stomach, Sour Risings, Bad Breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lesbus, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of stomach trouble. I was afflicted with Stomach Trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which entirely cured me. The six bottle were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes a rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The Days are Growing Longer.

The days are again growing longer. The period from sunrise to sunset is lengthening, and it is possible again to work indoors until 6 o'clock without calling into requisition artificial light. The afternoons have been lengthened more rapidly than the mornings because the sun has been changing from "sun fast" to "sun slow," occasioned by the elliptical form of the earth's orbit, and the varying route of the earth's motion in its orbit.

How to Help Your Girls.

The anxious mother of the family oftentimes carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visits are very often too great for consideration. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advise, which is given free. Correspondence is held strictly confidential.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

TESTS PATIENCE.

Nothing spoils a good disposition.

Nothing taxes a man's patience.

Like any itchiness of the skin.

Itching piles almost drive you crazy.

All day it makes you miserable

All night it keeps you awake.

Itch! Itch! Itch! with no relief.

Just the same with eczema.

Can hardly keep from scratching it.

You would do so but you know it makes it worse.

Such miseries are daily decreasing.

People are learning they can be cured.

Learning the merit of Doan's Ointment.

Read the testimony of a Bellefonte citizen.

A hotel man of Bellefonte, says: "I have used Doan's Ointment and know it to be all that it is claimed to be. I tried it for itching hemorrhoids and other skin eruptions and found it to be not only one of the best, but in fact the only remedy that ever gave me any relief. I was in constant torment for years with hemorrhoids and anyone who has suffered from this trouble will know how welcome was the relief I found in Doan's Ointment. It cured me in about twenty-four hours. I have not only used it myself but have recommended it in numerous cases and always with the same good results. I would not allow my name to be used as a reference if I did not know it to be just as represented. I got the Ointment at F. Potts Green's drug store."

It is said that a number of trust multi-millionaires will sail for Europe as soon as Congress adjourned shall trouble them no more.

Those who think that president Roosevelt's fight with the trust will be indecisive do not realize what a strenuous man backed by the country may be able to accomplish in four years.

If the thousands of visitors to Washington last week could see the Capital at a better season they would realize why Congressmen, their wives and their daughters seek election and re-election.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Mar. 4th.

I write you amid the fan fare of trumpets, the beating of bass drums and while the great procession is returning from the Capitol to pass the reviewing stand of the President. I have seen many parades go back and forth on this historic avenue, but this one, I think, excelled them all in pomp of drum majors, length and orderliness of procession and in the numbers and enthusiasm of the throngs of spectators. The president's salute of twenty-one guns from the Navy yard and a like number from Fort Myer and from Fort Washington are still booming.

There were about thirty thousand men in line, six thousand regulars, twelve thousand National Guards and two thousand cadets. There were over fifty Civic organizations in the parade. The presence of Porto Ricans and Filipinos added to the picturesqueness of the scene.

The president left the White House at eleven o'clock and proceeded up the Avenue to the Capitol, accompanied by a troup of his own Rough Riders, those who had been with him in Cuba. They were a fine looking group of men, but it was only with difficulty that they concealed their chagrin at being mounted on heavy artillery horses instead of having the light and nervous mounts to which they are accustomed. When the president reached the Capitol he proceeded at once to the marble apartment known as the president's room. Here the floral decorations were elaborate. The Mantle and windows were banked with roses and orchids and the bronze bust of McKinley was surrounded by flowers and a draped flag. The bills were brought from the Senate and the House and the president signed them as fast as he could, but not without looking them over. Then accompanied by the members of the Cabinet he went to the Senate, where at twelve o'clock Vice-president Fairbanks took the oath of office, and made a short address. The floor of the Senate was crowded with Senators, Representatives, members of the Diplomatic Corps and the presidential party. The Galleries in which every seat had been reserved for the families of the president, vice president, the Speaker of the House, and of Senators and Members were packed even the steps which were utilized as seats by the observers.

After his address and a prayer by the Chaplain Vice President Fairbanks administered the oath of office to the Senators-elect.

At the conclusion of these ceremonies the president took his stand on the inaugural platform facing the great crowd that had assembled on the plaza which extends from the Capitol to the gold domed Library of Congress. On his right sat the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court who administered the oath of office and the president then delivered his Inaugural address. It was very short, taking not more than ten minutes for its delivery, and owing to the immensity of the crowd could be heard only by those who sat in his immediate vicinity.

Immediately after his address the president returned to the president's room in the Senate and after congratulations and a few words with his friends he re-entered his carriage and was driven rapidly to the White House.

The waving of flags and cheering met him on all sides as he proceeded en at a swift trot up the Avenue and he was kept bowing from the right to left, acknowledging the enthusiastic salutes the entire way. After a luncheon to which a number of guests were invited, but which was really a hurried meal, he took his place in the glass enclosed stand which was in the centre of the "Court of History" and from this point viewed the procession which filed past him for three hours. Stands lined both sides of the Avenue and obscured Lafayette Park and even the White House, but in order to make the scene as picturesque as possible the stands had been painted and draped with flags and statutes from the St. Louis Exposition were placed on specially prepared pedestals about the "Court." The Avenue as far as the eye could see was a mass of humanity. In the centre of the broad, clean streets soldiers, scouts, the National Guard, West Point and Annapolis Cadets, civic clubs and bands playing stirring music as the gorgeous drum majors perform their tricks which stir the soul of the small boy along the route. On either side of the parade the spectators are blocked and packed, elbowing and working into more advantageous positions or changing from side to side to rest the weary feet which have held them for six or eight hours.

The stands arranged with seats of the soft side of planks and roofed over were filled for the most part and every window along the Avenue some of which rented for a hundred dollars each, were filled with spectators.

The Grand Duchess Elizabeth will, in memory of her husband, Grand duke Sergius, provide dinners for forty days for the poor of Moscow who number 45,000. If the result is anything like the slaughter that occurred when the present Czar fed the poor in honor of his coronation the result will be worse than a battle with the Japanese.

How unspeakably corrupt must be the police force of New York when the officer best qualified to know says there is not a place in the city where street cars run that the pick pockets are not working under distinct contract with the Central office men and that the "whack up" was made on a basis of a half for each side.

A SPLENDID WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. Jennie Beck Died Suddenly at Her Home at Warriorsmark.

Mrs. Jennie Beck, widow of the late Jacob Beck, died at her home at Warriorsmark at 1.45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was born at Aaronsburg, Centre county, on April 7, 1857, and at death was aged 47 years, 10 months and 28 days. She was married to Jacob Beck of Loveville on April 6, 1876, who died a few years ago. She is survived by her mother, who is now 86 years old, one sister, Mrs. Martha Hildebrant, of North Dakota, who was with her at the time of her death, and one half brother, T. J. Gates, cashier of the Blair County National bank of Tyrone. One half sister, Mrs. Mary Antes, of Clearfield, and two half brothers, Perry and Soloman Gates, of the Half Moon valley, preceded her to the grave.

Some years after her father's death she became a member of the household of Isaac Beck, at Loveville, Centre county, where she remained until her marriage, which was also the home of T. J. Gates. To the family she was deeply attached. Mr. and Mrs. Beck were to her in every sense of care and interest the same as real father and mother, and with the children of the Beck family she grew up as one of the family, the attachment being deep, strong and lasting as life itself, her brother, T. J Gates, sharing equally with her in all the comforts and advantages of the delightful home.

The deceased became a member of the Lutheran church early in life. She resided in Tyrone about three years, then built a comfortable home at Warriorsmark, where she resided until death ended her useful and unselfish earthly career. She was an earnest and conscientious christian woman, whose life reflected the faith that she professed. Ministries to the interests and needs of others was a bright characteristic of her nature, Her aged mother, long the loving care of her daughter will miss her kindly hand. She was bound closely to her brothers and sisters, and the years but deepened the attachment. In the church she was a laborer and a helper to her pastor, and the light of her life will long be reflected in the good deeds that shall follow her.

The funeral took place Tuesday forenoon. Services in the Loveville Lutheran church at 10.30 o'clock by Rev. R. S. Stair, assisted by Rev. F. L. Bergstresser.

Junior Social.

The Juniors of the Milesburg Baptist church on Friday evening, Maroh 3rd, gave a surprise call on Mrs. Sue P. Fisher and Miss Ella Levy. Mrs. Fisher has been housed up with rheumatism all winter. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all. The Juniors sang and recited. Light refreshments were served and all had a good, social time. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Ambrose Swartz and Mrs. Lathrop.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dy-pepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The Dairymen's Organization.

The Dairymen of Bellefonte have formed an organization, taking for its name, The Dairymen's Protective Association. They have formed this for the purpose of protecting oneanother against bad accounts. As is known the profit on one quart of milk is very small and as they are constantly being taken advantage of, some action on their part was necessary. By the forming of this organization it will be impossible to purchase from any other dairymen, until previous accounts have been arranged, as is shown by the following by-law:

Resolved—That we, as members of this organization, will refuse to serve milk to any patron, while said patron is indebted to any other member of this organization.

IN NEW COAL FIELD.

The Berwind-White syndicate has entered the soft coal fields of West Virginia, and purchases aggregating nearly $2,000 000 were made in the last week. The company closed a deal last week for the W. P. Rend properties, in Fayette county, W. Va., consisting of five mines, on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. These lands last week produced more than 2,000,000 tons of smokeless coal, and are considered among the most valuable in the New River district.

Edward J. Berwind, believed to be acting for the same corporation, also closed a deal for the acquisition of 1800 acres of coal land belonging to the estate of the late Colonel J. L. Beury. The price is said to be $150 an acre—the highest ever given for undeveloped West Virginia coal land. The land is in Fayette county, near that bought from W. P. Rend. Mr. Berwind means to operate it immediately.

The Rend property, in addition to the five mines, includes 3000 acres of choice land, all on the railroad, and in a good position for economical operation. The price is said to have been about $1,000,000. The purchase carries with it a fuel contract with the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad that has three years to run. The Berwind-White syndicate has not announced whether it will operate the mines or act as the sales agent temporarily.

Mrs. Samuel Mitchell.

Mrs. Anna Mitchell, wife of Samuel Mitchell, after an illness of nearly a year with dropsy, died Tuesday night at 10:30 at her home in Philipsburg.

The deceased was a native of Stormstown, this county, but for twenty-eight years has resided in Philipsburg. She was aged 65 years. She was a good wife, an indulgent mother and a kind neighbor. For many years she has been a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. Her excellent qualities endeared her to very many friends, who will deeply lament her death. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. William Wilson, of Philipsburg, and three sisters, viz: Mrs. T. E. Watson, Clearfield; Mrs. Elizabeth Sonser, Unionville, and Mrs. Hannah Gensamore, Bellwood. Three sons preceded her to the edirit world.

A Valuable Record of Local History.

Dr. Thos. C. VanTries has shown us the first number (January) of "The Kittochtinny Magazine, A Tentative Record of Local History and Geneology West of the Susquehanna," published quarterly, at Chambersburg, Pa., Mr G. O. Seilhamer, Editor and Publisher. It contains several interesting historical articles, among them one of local interest to some of our citizens. It is entitled, "Two Conococheague Plantations," in which he gives some interesting family history, and a sketch of the lands owned and occupied by the Poe and Potter families one hundred and fifty years ago, with photographs of both the old Poe and Potter homesteads, which are still standing, and occupied by their present owners. The price of the Magazine is $3.00 per year, (four numbers,) or seventy five cents for the January No. Address Mr. G. O. Seilhamer, Chambersburg, Pa.

Funeral of Wm. Kane.

The funeral of William Kane took place on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his home at Pleasant View. The services were conducted by the Methodist pastor at Pleasant Gap.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, included in the latter were many of his old comrades, veterans of the civil war.

Interment was made at Curtins Works.

Evangelical Appointments.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical church was held at Hagerstown, Md., March 2-7, 1905, and the following appointments were made for this district:

CENTRE DISTRICT, R. CRUMBLING, P. E.

Altoona, M. I. Jamison; Bellwood, W. N. Fulcomer; Milesburg, J. A. Foss; Bellefonte, W. B. Cox. Howard, J. F. Shultz; Nittany, J. M. Price; Sugar Valley, H. T. Searle; Reberesburg, S. A. Snyder; Centre Hall, J. R. Sechrist; Spring Mills, M. J. Snyder; Millheim, I. N. Bair.

—A fakir went to a Clearfield store and bought a bunch of brass finger rings for a nickle each. He afterwards went out on the streets of the town and telling a hard luck story, managed to get rid of them for a dollar or two dollars each. Profits of this kind are large enough to satisfy an American billionaire.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

—Miss Mary Jane Linn died February 26 at the Home of the Friendless in Williamsport. She was aged 87 years and enjoyed the distinction of being the only real Daughter of the American Revolution known to be a resident of Williamsport. Her father served in the first war with England as a member of Capt. Gill's company of Colonel Moyland's regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. During the session of the fifty-fourth congress she was granted a Revolutionary pension of $12 per month and the measure was signed by President Cleveland. The pension was obtained through the effort of the Hon. J. D Hicks, of Altoona, Several days before her death she requested an attendant to send a gold spoon, a gift from the national chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to Congressman Hicks as a keepsake from her, in recognition of the kindness rendered her. This was the last request made by the dying woman, and the spoon will be sent to Mr. Hicks.

—The Woman's Home Companion for March contains half a dozen articles of startling interest. In "The Freak amusements of 'High Society'" the absurdities of the life of some of our very rich people are laid bare. Henry Irving Dodge begins a series of articles on "The Truth About Food Adulteration." Marion Harland returns to fiction, and contributes a serial as full of interest as those books which have made her the most popular woman writer in America. "The Moki Indian Snake-Dance" gives a strange picture of savage America. There are four short stories by well-known writers. The departments are unusually full of matter pertaining to household interests and especially are they timely in suggestions for gardening and entertainments for the spring. Published by The Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

—Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change, of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of Woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

Cold weather, of course, may cause a greater consumption of coal but perhaps the coal is poor and tons of it must be used to get up even and ordinary heat.

Not so much with this Coal of ours. It neither flies up the chimney in smoke nor drops through the grate as ashes. It burns slowly and makes things red hot while burning.

THE GREAT GOD PAN

Trenham arrived at Cantico at 1:30. At 2 Norton's silent, efficient serving man was formally introducing him to the Hutch—his for a month—a squat, oriental-looking building standing in the tempered shade of the pines and larches and containing all those touches of home comfort usually ascribed to feminine quarters.

At 2:30 his tweed suit changed to a more formal costume, he emerged from the low, broad doorway, stirred by a pagan desire to get closer still to nature, out into the dim, cloistered places of the woods, where he might float deliciously upon a sea of silence, whose calm was unbroken save by the ripple of a bird note or the snapping of a twig.

"I say, but this is great!" burst from his lips luxuriously as he drew in long whiffs of the suave air with its warm, elusive scent of sweet, growing things. "This is life. This is what man was meant for."

As he ceased speaking he lifted his face to the soft breeze that caressed his cheek like a spirit hand and thought unfaltering things of civilization. What after all did this boasted condition mean? What but crowded cities with stone where turf should be, the roar of trains, shrieking of whistles, whizzing of autos, clattering of hoofs, and the grind, grind of office life. As he thought of it now, looking as he was straight into nature's smiling inscrutable face, it all seemed supremely ridiculous. Fauns and satyrs, hamadryads and naiads had been wiser.

At the end of an hour's walk he found that the path ended abruptly at a grassy knoll. For a few moments Trenham gazed with an appreciation too deep for words. Then with a sigh of contentment he sank down upon the thick grass and stretched himself out, his head resting in the hollow of his clasped hands, his eyes narrowed to slits like gatekeepers who would say to the beauties about them, "One at a time, please."

And presently the slits became narrower and narrower.

"Spring," he muttered, musingly, "is just bursting into young summerhood." Then his lips twitched slightly and he tried again.

He stretched his eyes open wide as if to fling off some irresistible influence.

"Good Lord, am I a poet after all?" he demanded comically of the shadowy self that always attend us, but never so palpably as in solitudes. And then he smiled and lay staring up into the great arch of the blue above him.

Again the slits grew narrower, almost imperceptible. A line from a poem learned in youth trailed across his mind —"Great Pan is dead!"

"It is a lie," he said drowsily. "Great Pan's not dead. Great Pan——"

The murmur ended in a knowing smile, the smile of one who has learned for a certainty what fools most mortals be, and that its turn faded into gravity. Trenham slept.

"It's a singular sleeping beauty of a place—has a breathless, charmed air, as if it were under a spell. I believe there are fairies or godlings to be discovered."

So had Natica Duke written to a friend soon after coming to Cantico for the summer. There were few houses in the region—half a dozen within 20 miles, and her first impression for the country was only deepened by her long, solitary strolls. She had a mystical feeling that there was something to be discovered—some secret that she was forever on the verge of.

Godling, gnome or fairy, she fancied, might rise in her path at any moment without causing her any surprise, and she stopped short at the edge of the wood one day upon finding her favorite spot already occupied.

For the fraction of a second she half believed. Then she wholly disbelieved. No godling would appear in tan oxfords. Sandals were the utmost one could conceive! Still, as a mortal, the sleeping youth before her was worth consideration. A glance told her that and she cautiously drew a step nearer.

He lay so that a spreading branch of a tree shaded his face, his soft linen hat tossed on the grass beside him, thus revealing the thick hair, that looked as if it might have curled had not its owner sternly refused to hear of such a thing. His features reminded her sternly of certain marbles she had seen, they were so massive, yet so finished, and with girlish attention to dress she bestowed an approving glance on his white negligee shirt, the sleeves rolled up to the elbows, and the duck trousers to match. If he was not a godling he was at least a most attractive mortal.

Daringly she stood and gazed at him, tingling with the fear that he might awaken yet too interested to turn away. The blue of her eyes were matched by the color of the linen gown she wore. Around her neck a dandelion chain dangled like a cable of rich gold.

With a sudden movement she lifted the latter, breaking off a part of it and fastening it into a wreath. Again she hesitated. Then with her under lip held between her teeth in a way that showed the very merry dimples, she took a letter from her dress, hurriedly extracted a tiny pencil from an envelope, scrawled something on an unused sheet and tore it off.

Almost holding her breath she tiptoed nearer. He was sleeping very heavily. The scrap of paper she had twisted into the wreath. At last she stood within an arm's length of his head. She listened excitedly, but the long, even breaths assured her.

Slowly she bent over; lower and lower she descended until it rested on the crisp, dark hair. With the braced air of a person who feels that he is likely to be shot at any moment, she straightened up and waited, but he did not move. Then, with a last, admiring glance, for he looked like a veritable flower-crowned god now, she fled back along the path, and in a moment had disappeared in the woods.

Trenham woke from a slumber so deep that his very identity was lost. Long, lazy shadows darkened the sward about him. Who—what—where?

Something pressed upon his forehead and instinctively his hand went up, his fingers groping eagerly for some meaning in the soft, damp mass that met their touch. Then they closed upon the object and brought it around where his eyes could help.

He started at it in silence for a moment.

"Crowned, by Jove!" was his dazed exclamation when he last found speech. The scrap of paper caught his eye and he detached it, smoothed it out, and looked at it with absorbed curiosity.

"I salute thee. Great Pall, was scribbled thereon in a girlish hand, and at the words a light dawned upon him. Who was she and what was she like? How strange that she, too, should have been thrilled with the same weird sense of the nearness of pagan gods!

The dandelions were curling up like tired children, but Trenham carried the wreath home as carefully as if it had been of the flowers of Eden, and he smoked many pipes that night in the soft gloom of Norton's roomy porch, wondering how and when and where they would meet, and whether her eyes were blue or gray, and whether she was tall or short, dark or fair, his lady of dreams.

Afterwards he plumed himself upon having recognized her instantly, though if the truth were known it required no great perspicuity. Asked to dinner at the Stanton's—the nearest neighbors, though three miles away—he had accepted on the chance of getting some clue to the young lady.

At the did. At the sight of him the only other guest, a young woman, with the bluest of blue eyes, gave a startled but pleased look that flashed into her eyes and out again so quickly that he would scarce have been sure save for the slight flush that backed up his theory. Later on it transpired that she was the one girl in the neighborhood, and matrons, Trencham shrewdly argued, would scarcely be up to such pranks, or even thinking of the great god Pan.

For the rest, there are people who are still scandalized when they remember the queerness of the Trenham-Duke wedding. It took place in sylvan style a year later on the knoll overlooking the river, and the bride wore—can you believe it?—a wreath of dandelions!—Chicago Journal.

To Care for Consumptives.

Chairman J. Lee Plummer, of the house appropriation committee, introduced two bills in the legislature of Harrisburg on Tuesday, appropriating a total of $400,000 for consumptive hospitals in the Eastern and Western section of the state. In referring to them he says:

"I feel that the state ought to care for its consumptives and not appropriate its public moneys to private institutions for this purpose. After consultation with men of influence I have been encouraged to prepare and introduce bills to this purpose. Each bill carries an appropriation of $200,000, making a total of $400,000.

"The forestry department is the proper department to take charge of the matter for through it we can utilize the wild lands which the state owns. The camp at Mount Alto will be enlarged and as it is easy of access it will receive patients from the eastern part of the state. The new camp will be established at some place easily of access to the centres of population in the western part of the state to receive patients from that section.

LINCOLN A CATHOLIC.

Pioneer Illinois Priest Makes Imporant Statement.

[The Pittsburg Observer, Feb. 23, 1905.]

Despite the stormy weather Lincoln's birthday was jittingly celebrated by the pupils of the Immaculate Conception school, Germantown, Pa. The program for the occasion was ably carried out.

Rev. John W. Moore, C. M., made the address of the day. He told the children what a great man Lincoln was; of the evils and miseries of slavery, and how Lincoln seemed providentially sent to preserve the integrity of the Union.

Father Moore made mention of a fact not generally known, viz, that Lincoln was a Catholic, but owing no doubt to the scarcity of priests in Illinois, where Lincoln lived, and to his environments he drifted away from the faith of his fathers.

Father Moore stated that Father St. Cyr, an old pioneer priest of Illinois, and who afterwards died at the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph in Carondelet, St. Louis, Mo., told Father James McGill, C. M., of Germantown, and Thomas J. Smith, C. M., of Perryville, Mo., who paid Father St. Cyr a visit one day for the express purpose of finding out something about Lincoln, that Lincoln was a Catholic

Father St Cyr said that he often celebrated mass in Abraham Lincoln's father's house, and that young Abraham Lincoln, who was a boy then of some 10 or 12 years of age, frequently served his mass.

Inaugurals of 1789 and 1905.

Mr. Norman Hapgood makes an interesting comparison between the times of President Washington's and President Roosevelt's inaugurals, and among other things says:

The inaugural last week unfolds far other sights and a far different leader. When the first President was inaugurated the city was to bear his name was in the womb of time. When John Adams entered it, it consisted of half-finished edifices lying in a wilderness. Firewood was scarce, because none could be found to cut the trees. The spot was beautiful, but wild Savages and beasts still lurked among the thickets, and from the adjoining hill the wide view swept over distances unknown to civilized man. Today this capital of an immense and powerful race this fairest city swarms with Americans from vast western regions, which then no white man's eye had seen. It is dotted, also, here and there, on the occasion of the twenty-sixth President's inaugural, with people of dusky hue and varied garb, tokens of an empire undreamed of when Washington was alive. Conditions changing have altered profoundly the premises on which the philosophy of that day was based. It assumed remoteness from the other world as the essential of our position. Now we reach that world as easily as Washington came from Boston to New York. We speak to Europe more quickly than Washington could get a message from one wing of his army to another. Changing facts have meant changing policies, and yet in spirit the philosophy of 1789 guides our steps today. Could Washington be deposited in the city of his name, he would draw no quick conclusions. Haste was no ingredient of his nature. He would learn whether the eighty million people who had spread across his continent were happy, as this word goes. He would decide whether they were virtuous, in man's small way, and I think he would conclude that the country had done well with the inheritance which he left.

Politics and Humor.

In the world of politics the man who would obtain political preferment must be serious. No man who cultivates humor to the exclusion of his other gifts can hope to attain to the highest places in the political arena. The American citizen reserves the inalienable right to vote for whom he wills, and the serious man who suppresses his sense of humor rather than the man who cultivates it is honored with his preference. —Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

The March "Arena."

In the March "Arena" Rudolph Blankenburg described the ripening and revealing of political corruption in Pennsylvania under the Quay regime. This paper contains the startling expose of the criminal acts of Senator Quay which threatened to land him in the penitentiary; and the interest in the recital is much heightened by the reproduction of telegrams and autograph letters. There are also a number of portrait men who figured conspicuously in this great drama of modern political corruption. Mr. Blankenburg's series of papers is probably the most important contribution to the literature of the new crusade for political morality of the present year. Other papers of special value to people interested in the larger questions of life are David Graham Phillips' interesting description of Socialism in Europe to-day; "A Pen-Picture of a Great Radical Meeting in Paris," by Frances Hardin Hess "The Arena's" Paris commissioner; "The Present Status of Co-operation in Great Britain," a compact and lucid story of the rise and present status of the great co-operative movement of Great Britain, by J. C. Gray, General Secretary of the Co-operative Union of Great Britain; and "The Nevada Referendum Victory," by Eltweed Pomeroy, President of the National Direct-Legislation League. Mr. Flower contributes two papers of special interest. In one he sharply challenges many of the conclusions and deductions of Professor Munsterburg in his notable work, "The Americans." The other is concerned with the rise, domination and overthrow of the Tweed Ring, and is illustrated with reproductions of cartoons drawn by Thomas Nast during the famous battle between entrenched political corruption and good government. The strongest purely literary feature of the issue is Professor Archibald Henderson's discriminating and thoughtful criticism of the dramas and social ideas of Gerhart Hauptmann. Another view of the divorce question is presented by the well-known educator, Professor Henry Gaines Hawes, of New York City. Professor Hawes, though a strong champion of the home and the family, is not in favor of restrictive divorce legislation. He makes some admirable suggestions not altogether unlike those which have been so successfully introduced in the Swiss Republic. Among the full-page pictures printed on India-tint paper in deep sepia ink, which are features of this number, are portraits of M. Jaures, the great French statesman, David Graham Philips, the brilliant young novelist and essayist, J. C. Gray, head of the co-operative work in England, and a remarkably beautiful half-tone photograph of William Ordway Partridge's celebrated "Madonna." Although this issue of "The Arena" is one of exceptional strength and cannot fail to prove indispensable to the more thoughtful people who wish to keep in touch with the vital problems of the day.

No More Stomach Trouble.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by Green's pharmacy.

Dr. Oster's Age Limit.

Dr. Wm, Oster one of our most distinguished Medical Scientists last week states to the students of John Hopkins University the comparative uselessness of men over 40 and the absolute uselessness of men over 60. Such an assertion ignores the facts in human experience. History has a long list of Septuagenarians, judges, commanders, diplomats, Editors, Educators, ministers, scientists, artists and business man, who show us what ripeness of intellect means, out of the many we select a few as examples: Gladstone and Bismark were distinguished at 70, Franklin applied his macthless wisdom to our constitution at 83. Leo. XIII wrote encyclecals at 80 and acted as his own prime minister.

Von Moltke with the German armies crushed France at 70. According to Dr. Oster both Washington and Lincoln were to old to be President. Farragut entered Mobile Bay at 61. Dewey took Manilla at 60. Sampson and Schley won their victory when near the age of 70.

Milton wrote his greatest work at 80. Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood at 71. Michael Angelo painted the last judgment at 60 and shaped St. Peter's Dome, the finest piece of architecture in the world at 72. President Angell was distinguished as the President of Michigan University at the age of 76. Prof. Oster is himself 56 and is just going to Oxford University to occupy the highest medical position in the world. Prof. Oster is a physician of very high authority, but we think his declaration in this matter is at variance with the facts.

If our young men would take better care of their health they would be better men at 60 than the majority are now at 40

CITIZEN.

—E. E. Curtin, of Northwood, has a stunted white Leghorn hen that is extremely intelligent and productive. The little fowl looked so distressed last fall that Mr. Curtin cared for her in the house and there the hen became a household pet with warm and pleasant quarters Last month the chicken began to lay, and in the past twenty-four day she has laid twenty-three eggs. All the eggs have been deposited in the same place, on a rocking chair, and often the hen has chased Mr. Curtin out of the chair in order to secure her favorite nest.

A Severe Cold for Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nusbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me." Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M, Parrish.

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer.

Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of the New-York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them as yet. Yours very truly,

CHARLES S. BODMAN.

Gouverneur, N. Y., Nov. 29; 1904.

Through a special agreement with THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE FARMER we will send it with the Republican both papers, one year, for $1.00. Send your name and address to the Republican, Bellefonte, Pa.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right
C. M. Parrish

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Just as we go to press a telegram was received by Captain Taylor stating that Gov. Pennypacker had signed the death warrant for Ira Green and Wm. Dillon and fixed the date of execution as May 9th, 1905.

—Mrs. C. T. Gerberich is ill with stomach trouble at her home on Thomas street.

—Miss Helen McArdle, a sister of Father McArdle fell on the ice one day last week and dislocated her wrist.

—Professor Jagger, of Harvard University, is to head an important geological expedition to Iceland. It is expected to start from Cambridge about May 25. There will be fifty men in the party, which will have as an object the observation of the volcanic and glacial formations of that region.

—Dr. John P. Rote has presented to the Scientific Society of San Antonio the rattles of a monster rattlesnake, consisting of thirty joints and end knob. According to authorities, this is probably the largest rattle heretofore found on any snake, and the specimen will be an interesting one in the Scientific Society's collections.

—Two dwellings at Milton were destroyed by fire Saturday evening, entailing a loss or $1,200 probably fully covered by insurance. The houses belonged to colored men, James Craig and John Bend, who occupied them with their families. Grant Cuspard, colored, lived with Mr. Bond. The fire originated from an oil stove.

—The York Bridge Co., represented by Boyd Musser, formerly of Bellefonte, secured the contract with the Northumberland county commissioners for the erection of a $65,125 bridge across the north branch of the Susquehanna river. The survey was made under the directions of Mr. Musser. Eleven other companies competed.

—Robert T. Garman is receiving deferential bows from his friends since the inauguration day that he had, just one day later than Roosevelt. A new boy has arrived at the Garman home on West Eleventh street. Mr. Garman is an old Bellefonte boy and his many friends join in congratulations that the little stranger may grow to be a wise and useful man.

—A recent bulletin issued by the University of California contains an account of another hundred new double stars discovered and measured there. They are of the same character as those previously discovered at Lick Observatory. The distance between the two components in most of them is very small, and nearly all would be difficult objects to observe under conditions less favorable than those at Mount Hamilton.

—William Andres and William Jones, two prospectors of Reno, Nev., report the discovery of a prehistoric man cave in the southwestern portion of Nevada. The has been explored to a depth of 300 feet, ands hows evidence of a prehistoric race. Between myriads of stalactites hieroglyphics have been found, and stone seats showing signs of use, have been discovered. Efforts are now being made to explore the innermost caverns of the cave.

—A peculiar accident happened to Frank Shoulder Lycoming county on Thursday morning. He, with two companions, started on a bear hunt. They were driving in a light vehicle and one of their rifles was discharged by a sudden jolt. The ball struck a buckle on a gaiter worn by Mr. Shoulder and drove it entirely through his foot inflicting a dangerous wound. The hunt was abandoned and the injured man taken to his home where he received medical treatment.

—The sixth satellite of Jupiter was discovered early in January by Professor Perrine, of Lick Observatory, by means of observations with the Crossley reflector. The satellite is five or six times farther away from the planet than the outermost of the five others; its period may be from six to eight months. The four very bright satellites were discovered by Galileo in 1610. The faint fifth one was discovered by Professor Barnard in 1892 with the Lick telescope. The fifth and sixth satellites are of approximately the same brightness.

—The Bellefonte all Stars base ball club are desirous of purchasing new uniforms which will cost them about $40. They are circulating a paper asking contributions and we believe there is enough sporting blood in Bellefonte to see that they get the desired amount. If they call on you give them a liberal contribution and encourage them and they will put up a good stiff game of ball that will reflect credit on Bellefonte. They are open for engagements and their first game will for the benefit of the Bellefonte Hospital.

—It is less than a month until moving day.

—Harbingers of spring are expected to arrive soon.

—By the calendar spring will be due in two weeks. We hope it will come in reality.

—Miss Bertha Laurie has accepted the position as typewriter in the law office of Harry Keller Esq.

—The case of Green and Dillen will be taken before the board of pardon at its regular meeting this month.

—The Hastings mansion on North Allegheny street is being re-painted. The work is in charge of S. H. Williams and his men.

—The American Express company's wagon has been repainted and looks quite handsome. The work was done by McQuistion & Co.

—During the past week Sheriff Taylor turned out five of his temporary boarders so that now he has but seventeen prisoners in the county jail.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lytle, of Pine Grove Mills, are mourning the death of their little baby girl, who died Wednesday night of pneumonia.

—Miss Mary McQuistion gave a dinner last Wednesday evening at which twelve covers were laid. It was in honor of Mrs. Bentley, of Pittsburg.

—The firm of Katz & Co., has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Joseph Katz who has gone into the clothing business at Lewistown. The new firm at this place will be A. Katz & Son.

—Two drunken men created quite a spectacle on High street Thursday morning. They rolled and tumbled all over the street and side walk in a disgusting manner. It was fun for the on-lookers however.

—Lawrence, the little six year old son of Kirk Tate of Philipsburg, who had the third finger of his left hand badly mashed the other day while jumping on "bob sleds," may lose that member, although the attending physician is doing his best to save the same.

—The new Presbyterian chapel in the Third ward, Jersey Shore, was dedicated Sunday. The pretty edifice is free of debt, and the congregation is gratified with its success in building the new place of worship. Sunday $1,050 was raised to apply on the new church.

—The effects of the severe winter is now being seriously felt on railroads. In cuts or marshy places the tracks are heaving as a result of the moderation of the weather. This condition will prevail until the frost has all left the ground despite the vigilance and efforts of the track forces.

—Gertha Murphy, the little three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, of East High street, last week drew the handsome doll chanced off by Mrs. J. A. Aikens. Because of her age the little Miss had chosen number three, which proved to be the lucky one in the drawing.

—Up to the present time there are six or more applicants for the pastorate of the Lutheran church, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. H. C. Holloway. Among the number are Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall; and Rev. William Rearick, of West Milton. All the applicants will be heard in trial sermons before any selection is made.

—Mr. Patrick Gerrity, who had his arm so badly injured in the planing machine at Crider's mill, a couple weeks ago, is out and at work again. The injured member is healing up nicely and contrary to expectations will not be crippled to any extent. Mr. Thad Hamilton, who had his hand injured in the same machine, last week, is also around though it will be some time before he will be able to do any work.

—John C. Hoffman, of Philadelphia, one of the most expert counterfeiters of silver dollars, halves and quarters in the country, was arrested up Buffalo Run, Wednesday Feb. 22nd. by a secret service officer of Philadelphia who had been on his trail for some time. Hoffman and a gang of five others had made and passed spurious coin in Scranton, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburg and when arrested he had on his person $95 of the stuff. All the other members of the gang were likewise captured. Hoffman was tried in the United States district court, at Scranton, on Wednesday March 1st. found guilty and sentenced by Judge Archibald to ten years in the penitentiary.

—H. H. Harshberger Esq., of Bellefonte, received a letter last week from his sister, Mrs. J. J. Lohr, of Pasadena, California, in which she enclosed a bunch of orange blossoms and says that the weather is perfectly delightful out there now, although they have had about seventeen inches of rain during what they call their rainy season. She also adds that she saw General James A. Beaver and wife and on Sunday they attended the Seventh street Presbyterian church in that city, and to their surprise the church was crowded with people, and hundreds stood on the outside with but one object and that was to get a passing glimpse of the distinguished citizen from Bellefonte who has figured so conspicuously in both war and politics of the great State of Pennsylvania. The General and his wife have been thus cordially welcomed in the West and naturally are having a pleasant time.

—Garden seeds are already on sale in the stores.

—Daniel Garman, who has been seriously ill is greatly improved.

—There are 47 applicants for liquor license before Judge Orvis for disposal.

—"Miss Bob White" will be the attraction at Garman's Opera House March 16.

—It will not be long until the ice man steps into the shoes and the fortunes of the plumbers.

—John Wanamaker once said, "To discontinue advertising is like taking down your sign."

—If the weather continues mild the hens ought to be able to bring the prices of eggs down pretty soon.

—We call the special attention of our readers to the new advertisement of John P. Lyon in this issue.

—The Star Course will close on Monday evening, April 3rd, with a concert by the Temple quartette.

—Thompson & Bartley have moved their livery from the stable near Parrish's drug store to the large Brant House stable

—The Central Pennsylvania Company to manufacture cigars and tobacco, of Bellefonte, was granted a charter at Harrisburg on Friday.

—The Legislature should not make the game and fish laws so complicated that nobody but a lawyer will understand what is expected of the public.

—George Kyler, a well known and highly respected old resident of Clearfield died in the County Home, aged 83 years. He was a brave soldier in the civil war.

—John Mitchau, author of "Archeology vs. History," died on February 5. He was a graduate of Ann Arbor, and was well-known among archeologists. He was fifty-three years old.

—Twelve locomotives a week are being delivered by the Baldwin works to the Pennsylvania railroad following the orders given by that road for 525 locomotives several weeks ago.

—There is to be a new livery stable in town. The Gault brothers George and James are to open an establishment of this kind in the stable back of Parrish's drug store formerly occupied by Bartley & Thompson.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Howard Canning company the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: W. P. Davis, Jackson Kline, George Weaver, J. W. Mayes, Alf. Schenck, D. A. Irwin, William Weber, Joseph Leathers and Joseph Diehl. The company paid 9 per cent dividend the first year.

—Brakeman John Watson, of East Lamb street, was badly bruised up but not seriously injured in a freight wreck near Snow Shoe Friday afternoon. A broken wheel on a coal train on the way to the mines caused ten coal cars to jump the track. Watson was thrown twenty feet and had a narrow escape from death under the wrecked cars.

—In this issue of the Bellefonte Republican you will find a supplement containing the Auditor's statement for Centre county. It is carefully compiled and shows that the County's affairs have been managed in a careful, economical and painstaking manner by the present Republican Board of County Commissioners. Centre county is in splendid condition financially and otherwise.

—A dwelling house recently purchased by Frank Kessinger, of Eagleville station, from Frank Taylor and located near the Beech Creek station on the B. E. V. R. R., was totally destroyed by fire about 8 Sunday evening. The house was not occupied, but Lawrence Nestlerode was to have moved in on Monday. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The loss is about $200 with no insurance.

—The horribly mutilated body of R. P. Cunningham, a freight brakeman on the Pittsburg division, was found just east of the station at South Fork about midnight Thursday night. The unfortunate brakeman had evidently fallen off his own train and been either killed or rendered unconscious, and was then struck by the engine of No. 4 as it passed South Fork, for when that train pulled into the Altoona station at 12.40 in the morning one of the man's arms, pulled off at the elbow, and a part of his coat were found on the front part of the engine.

—License and argument court was held Tuesday with Judge Orvis on the bench. The petitions for licenses were placed in his hands, several of which there were remonstrances against. Judge Orvis fixed the latter part of next week for hearing the testimony in regard to the licenses which were objected to. He stated his intention of insisting on the strict observance of the law by tavern keepers and liquor dealers and said he would show no partiality. He would be conservative in the granting of licenses and would not grant any until after he heard the testimony next week.

A. H. Rowan, the well known locomotive engineer, of Snow Shoe, was a Bellefonte visitor Tuesday. He was a caller at the Republican office while in town.

Harry Walkey has returned home from Philadelphia where he spent five weeks with Dr. S. Gray Mattern undergoing treatment for rheumatism. He is much improved.

Miss Marie White departed Thursday morning for Washington, D. C., where she will attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt. Later she will visit friends in Philadelphia and New York.

H. C. Quigley and Clement Dale, Esq's., two of Bellefonte's attorneys visited Philipsburg Thursday on legal business, being concerned in the Murray Lumber company's bankruptcy proceedings.

Mrs. William Thompson, of Jersey Shore, spent several days in Bellefonte last week.

Jay R. Woodcock occupied the Presbyterian pulpit Sunday morning and evening. He is an old Bellefonter and was greeted by large audiences at both morning and evening service.

The Republican office was favored with quite a number of callers on Tuesday. Among the number were Harry Washburn, of Osceola; B. W. Hess, J. W. Wilson, W. J. Cox, of Houtzdale; and Porter Bilger, of Port Matilda.

Mrs. J. Barrett Martin and little daughter, of Pittsburg, passed through Bellefonte Tuesday afternoon on her way to visit friends at Huntingdon. She had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Holmes at State College.

Frank Curtin, son of James Curtin, who the past several years has been in the employ of the Potter—Hoy Hardware company as order clerk, has tendered his resignation and will depart for Arizona, this week, where he has accepted a position on the ranch of John B. Stetson, the millionaire hat manufacturer, of New York, hoping that the rarified atmosphere of that western State will be more beneficial to his health than the changeable climate of Pennsylvania. May success and prosperity attend him.

A Pleasant Surprise.

On Monday evening, March 6th, the members and friends of the Baptist church of Milesburg gave their pastor, Rev. A. C. Lathrop, and family a very pleasant surprise by dropping in on them without previous notice. They came bearing mysterious looking packages—large and small, until the tables seemed to groan beneath their weight of provisions and useful things for the home. The parsonage was soon well filled with a loyal and appreciative people who gathered in honor of their pastor's birthday. As soon as the people were in and seated (or standing) pastor Lathrop was taken in charge of by several of his male members who marched him to the parlor doorway, where Mr. Henry Heaton on behalf of the members and friends of the church, in a neat presentation speech spoke the greetings of the people and presented the pastor with a beautiful and fine pulpit suit of clothes. The pastor very feelingly responded and thanked his people for their manifest kindness and love. The evening was passed all too soon in social ways, innocent games and in partaking of the dainty refreshments which the ladies served. It will be an occasion long to be remembered by both pastor and people and is proof of the hearty co-operative spirit that prevails in their church work.

Philips—Bolger.

The residence of ex-postmaster A. L. Bolger and wife, of North Second street, Philipsburg, was the scene Monday afternoon of a quiet but very pretty home wedding, the occasion being the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Ethel Josephine, to Charles Reuben Philips, of Tunnelton, W. Va., formerly of Philipsburg. Only the immediate friends were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George D. Penepacker, D. D., after which there were hearty congratulations, followed by a bounteous repast.

The happy young couple departed Monday afternoon on a western trip of two weeks, at the end of which time they will return to Philipsburg and be at home to their friends a short time before returning to Tunnelton, W. Va., to take up housekeeping.

The bride has been an assistant in the post office for several years, resigning her position there only a few days ago, and is one of Philipsburg's most charming young ladies.

The groom is a son of David Philips, formerly of Philipsburg, now living at Tunnelton, W. Va., and is a young mining engineer of considerable promise. He is a graduate of State College, and now holds a good position with a big coal firm at Tunnelton. He is a splendid young man and worthy of the bride he has secured. We desire to join the many friends of the happy couple in wishing them the fullest measures of bliss and prosperity in life's pilgrimage.

Bishop Garvey's Mother Passes to the Beyond

Mrs. Catharine Garvey, aged 90 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cassie Curtin, on Dudley street, Dunmore, near Scranton, Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock, after one week's illness.

Mrs. Garvey was the mother of Bishop Eugene A. Garvey, of the Altoona diocese of the Catholic church, and resided with her son when he was the rector of the Church of the Annunciation, Williamsport. She was a most estimable woman and has a host of friends who will sincerely mourn her death.

Mrs. Garvey emigrated from Ireland to this country 75 years ago, and spent the time in Carbondale, Williamsport and Dunmore. Her husband, Michael Garvey, was a well-known foreman for the Delaware and Hudson company on the old gravity road.

The deceased possessed many rare qualities and her gentle and kindly nature, intent upon doing good, won for her many warm friends.

The funeral was held Thursday at 10 o'clock from the Curtin residence. A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church, Dunmore, by Bishop E. A. Garvey.

"THE THESPIANS."

Presented "The Boomerang" at Garman's Opera House Monday Night.

Garman's Opera house was crowded Monday evening by a large and fashionable audience drawn together to witness the production of "The Boomerang" a farce comedy presented by "The Thespians" the famous damatic society of The Pennsylvania State College. This dramatic society which was organized back in 1898 has been growing better each year and last night's play was the best of them all. The play was well staged, costumes were good and the entire company played their parts to perfection. It abounded in laugbable situations and the interest of the audience was held from start to finish. The cast of characters was as follows:

Mr. Launcelot Bargiss, a retired party who becomes the victim of the inevitable; Josiah Francis Johnson, '05.

Paul Hollyhock; his son in-law; Guy Lenker Hoffman, '05.

Signore Palmiro Tamborini, Late Maitre de Ballet, Convent Garden, Howard Herman Heinrich, '05.

Professor Gasleigh, Wellington Garfield Heckathorne, '06.

Jobbins, Hollyhock's farmer; Emory Luther Diehl, '06.

Mrs. Hypatia Bargiss; Harry Harper Aungst, '05.

Dora Hollyhock; Raymond Howard Smith, '05.

Jessie; with yearnings beyond her station, Vernon Fitzsimons.

The college orchestra under the leadership of Clark Plummer Stewart delighted the audience by their excellent playing and added a great deal to the enjoyment of the event.

The singing of Francis J. Saunders and also of the College Quartette was also a pleasing feature and was enthusiastically encored.

The proceeds went for the Woman's Guild of St John's Episcopal church and they realized a nice sum.

The patronesses were: Mrs. George I. Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth H. B. Callaway, Mrs. Edward Garman, Mrs. Edward Irvin, Mrs. J. Howard Lingle, Mrs. C. Frank Montgomery, Mrs. George G. Pond, Mrs. W. Frederick Reynolds, Mrs. Edward Richards and Mrs. Mollie Z. Valentine.

A Pleasant Happening in the Mountain City.

We take the following from Saturday's Altoona Tribune as it will interest Centre county people.

Mr. Harry Loner Friday celebrated his thirty-second birthday anniversary and in the evening he was agreeably surprised at his home, 1610 Twelfth avenue, by a number of his friends assembling and taking possession of the house to assist in celebrating the event. There were some sixty persons in attendance and they passed a pleasant evening in music and games.
